TWO OPTOMETRISTS ARE INDICTED ON PERJURY CHARGE

Warrants issued for Oliver Abel and Herman Frohoff in Legislative Graft Inquiry.

DUMM OFFERED "FEE" Representative Says Chiropractors Sought to Retain Him as Their Lawyer.

Two indictments for perjury, one against Oliver Abel, an optometrist in the Carleton Building, and the other against Herman Frohoff, an optometrist in the Holland Building, were returned by the grand jury today in an investigation of bribery in the passage of bills by the last Legislature.

Abel, accompanied by an attorney, James C. Jones, appeared before Judge Kimmel shortly after 12 o'clock and gave a $250,000 bond signed by Jones, who qualified for $250,000. He entered the building by a side door and had given bond and departed before it generally was known that he had been indicted.

Frohoff was not in his office. Although a sign on his door gives his office hours as from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m., the office was locked.

Abel and Frohoff were witnesses before the grand jury in the investigation of the passage of a bill to license optometrists. It is understood the indictments against them resulted from testimony yesterday by H. H. Watts, president of the State Optometric Association, and W. P. Donovan, an optometrist in Springfield.

It was expected that additional indictments probably would be returned this afternoon.

Representative Says Chiropractors Offered Him "Fee" as Lawyer. Efforts of C. L. Easton of 2006 A. Harper street, legislative representative of the Missouri Chiropractic Association, to employ for a number of days a member of the Legislature to prepare for introduction in the House a bill licensing chiropractors, were described to a Post-Dispatch reporter by A. T. Dumm, a Jefferson City lawyer, who represents Cole County in the House and is one of the more influential members of the Legislature.

Dumm said Easton, who has represented the chiropractors at several sessions of the Legislature, called on him a few weeks before the sessions of the last Legislature began, and asked him to draw the chiropractic bill.

Dumm said he refused, telling Easton that he had other business which would occupy all his time before the Legislature convened and during the session. He said Easton assured him the chiropractors were willing to pay a "good fee," and that when he was released, Easton, although Dumm has offices alone, asked him if he did not have a partner who could draw the bill.

Dumm said he refused to entertain the proposition, and told Easton that his law business and his office as a member of the Legislature were entirely separate and could not be connected in any way. He said he explained to Easton that he was opposed to the chiropractic bill and that he would vote against it. Easton then employed W. C. Irwin, another Jefferson City lawyer to draw the bill and represent the chiropractors in legislative matters.

Easton admitted to a Post-Dispatch reporter that he had asked Dumm to prepare the bill and that he knew Dumm's services solely as a lawyer, and that he had no hope that Dumm would support the bill. He said Dumm consistently had been opposed to licensing chiropractors.

Prior to Easton's visit, Dumm had represented a local chiropractor in Jefferson City in two criminal prosecutions on charges of practicing medicine without a license.

Easton is the legislative representative who, Attorney-General McCallister has been informed, was solicited by a Republican member from one of the southern counties for $500 to obtain reconsideration of the chiropractic bill after it had been defeated for engrossment in the House. Easton denied the report in an interview in the Post-Dispatch Wednesday.

Many Rumors of Bribery. N. T. Cave of a member of the House from Callaway County, said yesterday that at one time near the close of the Legislature he considered the introduction of a resolution asking for a legislative investigation of rumors of bribery.

$200 INCOME TAX EXEMPTION FOR EACH DEPENDENT CHILD

Proposal Approved by Senate Committee; Reduction in Charge on Bank Checks.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—An income tax exemption allowance of $200 for each dependent child of a taxable parent and reduction of the 2-cent stamp tax on bank checks to 1 cent were decided on today by the Senate Finance Committee revising the war tax bill. Other stamp taxes tentatively approved were formally approved today with little change from the House provision.

By a tie, a motion to reconsider the committee's action in exempting all confederacy from taxation was lost in an effort to place a tax upon high-grade candy. The committee also rejected a motion to exempt business and industry from income and existing inheritance taxes.

ALDERMAN TO OFFER FREE BRIDGE LOOP RESOLUTION

Will Authorize Committee to Take Up Negotiations With the United Railways.

Negotiations between the city and the United Railways Co. for an interurban loop to add from the free bridge, through the business district, will be authorized in a resolution which Alderman Tamm will present to the Board of Aldermen this afternoon. The negotiations with the traction company will be in the hands of the three Aldermen who are appointed as members of a committee to discuss the mill tax with the United Railways Co.

Two suggestions for loops from the free bridge have been before the Board of Public Service for a year, but their advocates have never been able to agree. One of the proposed loops would extend as far north as Chestnut street and the other to Morgan street. The proposal was that the city build and own the loop, which is estimated to cost $150,000.

MEN DRIFT IN LIFEBOAT 16 DAYS WITHOUT FOOD

Only Two Alive When Picked Up—Ten Others on Torpedoed Ship Rescued After Twelve Days.

LONDON, June 15.—Two further instances of German submarine methods have been published. The members of the crew of the British steamer Karibia, which was torpedoed without warning 230 miles from land April 13, were picked up after 12 days spent in an open boat. For seven days they had been without food and two of the survivors died after their rescue. Another boat with 11 men has not been heard from and it is feared they lost with all on board.

The British steamer Calne was torpedoed without warning April 19 while 26 miles from land. The captain and 20 men were drowned and the remainder of the crew were found in a capsized boat in which they had drifted for 16 days without food. Only two were alive when the boat was picked up.

NORTHCLIFFE SEES LANSING

Will Confer With President Soon—Business Questions.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Lord Northcliffe, co-ordinating head of all the British war missions in this country, paid a official call today on Secretary Lansing. He arranged to see President Wilson soon. Lord Northcliffe said he had been designated by the British War Council as the head of all the special British missions, with full power to direct their activities, negotiate with American officials and report to the various ministries at home.

Lord Northcliffe first called on the British Ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, and later made his official call with the Ambassador. During the morning he conferred with Sir Richard Crawford, the British trade expert, also called on Secretary Redfield.

REPORT OF "VICE" CONDITIONS NEAR BARRACKS DENIED

Commandant Says Picture Drawn by Civil Investigators is Greatly Exaggerated.

SOLDIERS' CONDUCT GOOD

Gov. Gardner Asks County to Enforce Law Against Selling Liquor to Men in Uniform.

Raymond B. Fodick, civilian chairman of the War Department's Commission on Training Camps, is quoted in a Washington dispatch printed in today's St. Louis Star, as announcing that "reports from St. Louis indicate a deplorable laxity of law enforcement around Jefferson Barracks, both with respect to morality and the sale of liquor." The dispatch, without quoting an authority, adds that "vice conditions in the vicinity of Jefferson Barracks are not as deplorable as the War Department is not hesitating to take the whole establishment away from St. Louis if conditions are not remedied immediately."

Officers of the St. Louis branch of the National Security League have sent a letter to Gov. Gardner, asking him to use the power of the State to stop the illegal sale of liquor near Jefferson Barracks, which they say is "running wild."

Governor to Order Inquiry. The Governor said today, according to a Jefferson City dispatch, that he would instruct the Excise Commissioners of St. Louis and St. Louis County to investigate the conditions mentioned in the letter, and to enforce the law against selling liquor to men in uniform.

"To show the public how absolutely false these reports are," the Colonel added, "it is a plain, organized campaign to try to discourage enlistments," the Colonel added, vigorously.

Col. Irwin emphatically denied that drunkenness or immorality existed at the barracks. He stated that inspectors from the Inspector-General's department yesterday had finished a 14-day inspection of the barracks, and had found conditions eminently satisfactory. Insofar as the morals of the barracks are concerned, the War Department, he said, was fully informed as to conditions existing at the barracks, and he had not received any communications from it as to these reports which he branded as absolutely false. "The public how absolutely false these reports are," the Colonel continued, "in the last three or four weeks more than three or four recruits have been brought up on charges of drunkenness. Since the declaration of war more than 20,000 recruits have passed through the barracks. The percentage of immorality or drunkenness at the barracks, as compared with a civilian community of equal size, is infinitesimal."

Recruits Kept on Reservation. "Recruits sent to the barracks are not permitted to leave the reservation, except in very unusual instances. Sentries are posted at every road leading to the barracks. Only the permanent establishment of 400 or 500 men, who are instructors, are permitted to leave the barracks. Some of the men live outside the barracks. They were here before the declaration of war and their conduct is proper."

"I have sent investigators out to the main saloons on Broadway, just north of the barracks gate. So far I have been unable to obtain evidence of a single violation of the law forbidding the sale or gift of liquor to a soldier in uniform."

"Some soldiers—a very few—are obtaining some liquor. This comes from bootleggers, or from civilians violating the law."

"If I obtain evidence of a liquor violation I shall immediately present it to the civil authorities for action. However, I want to remind saloonkeepers that the sale or gift of liquor to soldiers constitutes a violation of the law by saloonkeepers, and not by the soldiers."

Col. Irwin said he wanted the public to know that he was equally emphatic in his denial of charges of immorality at the barracks. He declared recruits were kept so busy at drill and work in the four or five days they remain at the barracks that they have little time for other than the recreational facilities provided at the post.

Col. Irwin's statements were a repetition of those which he made Wednesday to a Post-Dispatch reporter who questioned him at the barracks about the matters which the St. Louis Branch of the National Security League brought to Gov. Gardner's attention today.

The Council of National Defense, Col. Irwin said, sent out a few weeks ago, to the Governor of each state, a circular letter, asking civil co-operation in having liquor laws observed at military posts. A copy was forwarded to the Missouri Council of Defense, and the "War Board" of the Chamber of Commerce was assigned to the task of keeping Jefferson Barracks free from vice and liquor conditions.

Pipe Line Co. Pays 10 Per Cent Bonus. INDEPENDENCE, Kan., June 15.—A quarterly dividend of 10 per cent was declared today by the Prairie Pipe Line Co. A salary bonus of 10 per cent to all employees earning less than $200 a year also was decided, the action being similar to that taken by the Prairie Oil and Gas Co. yesterday.

TROMBONE PLAYER KILLED BY OWNER OF BOARDING HOUSE

Slayer Accused Musician With Being Unduly Friendly With His Wife.

REFUSED TO HEED ADVICE

A. M. White Runs Downstairs, Falls Dead After Being Shot at 4020 Westminster Place.

A. M. White, a trombone player, was shot and killed this afternoon by Dee Redding, proprietor of a boarding house at 4020 Westminster place after a quarrel in which Redding accused him of being unduly friendly with Mrs. Redding.

White had boarded there about three weeks. The quarrel started on the second floor and White ran downstairs and into the back yard where he fell dead. He was identified at the morgue by officials of the musicians' union.

According to a police report, White was going to the bathroom when Redding intercepted him and told him he was "tired of it." When White asked what he meant he said he suspected White of being too friendly with Mrs. Redding.

White denied this and Redding drew a revolver and opened fire. According to witnesses Redding seemed to think his wife was in the bathroom at the time, but it was made known later that Mrs. Redding was in another part of the house.

LIBERTY BONDS AT PREMIUM IN FIRST EXCHANGE SALES

New York and Boston Report Transactions Above Par Today.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The initial transaction in Liberty Loan Bonds trading in which began on the New York Stock Exchange at noon today, was above par.

A lot of $10,000 sold at par and 1-32nds. The next lot, $20,000, sold at par. One lot of $5,000 sold at 88 and 4-64ths. Although Liberty Loan Bonds were listed on the St. Louis Stock Exchange today, there were no sales recorded. Bids, however, were made at 100, with offers at 98. Trading in these bonds did not go into effect until a few minutes before the exchange closed for the day.

BALTIMORE, June 15.—The Liberty Loan was traded in on the Stock Exchange here today at 101 1/2 on first sales. Other sales were made at 101.

JOHN CAFFERATA BLOCKS HEAVY RIGHT PUNCH WITH HIS NOSE

Edgar Smythe, With Whom He Had Had Loud Argument, Arrested for Peace Disturbance.

John Cafferata, saloon and cafe proprietor at Delmar boulevard and Hamilton avenue, showed his prowess as a boxer early today, when he cleverly blocked a right punch with his nose after he had refused to cash a check for Edgar Smythe of 120 Hamilton avenue, insurance broker and former member of the House of Delegates.

Smythe, who is broad-shouldered and round and much larger than Cafferata, was in the saloon shortly after midnight. He in the request that a check be cashed was refused and Cafferata exchanged angry words, to the entertainment of diners and winners.

After a long and loud argument, they retired to the sidewalk and "summed up" belligerent attitudes. There was only one round, and when it was over Cafferata was holding his hand over his nose and calling for the police, vociferously asserting that Smythe must have used brass "knuckles." Policemen who had been attracted by the noise of fight, searched Smythe and found no weapon on him. He was arrested on a peace disturbance charge.

GREAT ELEVENTH HOUR RUSH TO BUY LIBERTY BONDS

Crowds Wait in Line at Banks Here; Extra Help Called In.

QUOTA OVERSUBSCRIBED

City Wants $40,000,000 Bonds, This Reserve District About $100,000,000.

St. Louis banks and trust companies were overrun today with crowds of people in the eleventh hour rush to subscribe for Liberty Bonds till these institutions found their clerical forces taxed to the utmost to take care of the rush.

A meeting of the directors of the St. Louis Union Bank was held at 11 a. m., an hour before Liberty Bond subscriptions closed, and authorized the purchase of an additional million dollars worth of bonds. This purchase brought the total subscription of the bank to $7,000,000, the largest reported by any of the 800 banks in the St. Louis Federal Reserve District.

The Mercantile Trust Co. for itself and the Mercantile National Bank, announced that its subscriptions aggregated $6,029,400, and that the two institutions had received approximately 10,000 individual subscriptions.

Soon after the banks opened in the morning long lines of subscribers formed at the windows where the bonds were sold. Several banks employed extra help to handle the subscriptions while all other banks the officials sent their telegraphers to the bond departments to help out. The banks probably all will continue to receive subscriptions for a few days and till the orders taken from their own allotments. Since the bonds sold in some instances at a premium, however, there was a possibility that those who subscribed after noon today would have to pay the market price.

Subscriptions Being Totaled. The banks are forwarding their subscription totals to the Federal Reserve Bank as rapidly as possible, where a force of clerks was at work trying to make up the totals of all subscriptions reported for the Eighth Federal Reserve District.

Telegrams were received at the War Board headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce offices from many sections of the district during the day. Nearly every report indicated that the bonds were oversubscribed everywhere. Campaign managers were of the opinion that the subscriptions for the district would exceed $100,000,000. The allotment for the district was $80,000,000.

St. Louis subscriptions tabulated last night aggregated $23,000,000. These figures did not include many subscriptions taken late in the day. The reports showed that 25,718 individual subscribers bought $27,250,000 of bonds. The individual subscriptions were so heavy that it was expected the St. Louis banks would increase their subscriptions before the closing hour today, thus bringing the total well over the $40,000,000 mark.

Still Pushing Sales. The campaign for the sale of bonds was pushed as aggressively this morning as it is St. Louis far behind with subscriptions. The local bond committees are eager to have as many individual subscriptions as possible. The Government would like to be able to announce when the subscriptions are tabulated, that 10,000,000 individuals have bought Liberty Bonds.

It has not been possible to tabulate in St. Louis the subscriptions from the Federal Reserve District outside of the district. This district includes Southern Illinois, parts of Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, all of Arkansas and the greater part of Missouri.

When it appeared at the beginning of the week that the district was going to fall behind with subscriptions, 900 men were sent out to put more "pep" into the campaign. These men have been making talks at meetings held in every county in the district. The campaign has been so active during the last four days that the War Board, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank, announced that he was confident the district would over-subscribe its allotment.

Big Subscriptions of Day. Among the big subscribers reported in St. Louis yesterday were: Scottish Life & Marine, $100,000; D. C. Biggs, treasurer of the International Shoe Co., $200,000; Francis Bros. & Co., for its clients, $15,000; bond booth at Broadway and Olive street, $25,000.

The banks remained open until 9 p. m. yesterday to receive subscriptions from clients, and the trust companies and banks with savings departments kept their doors open until 9 p. m. to accommodate a rush of subscribers. Bonds were sold on time payments by the savings departments of the banks and trust companies. The banks and trust companies in some of the banks that the windows where regular business was transacted were closed, and the clerks were transferred to windows where bonds were being sold.

Policemen Making Subscriptions on Individual Plans. Policemen in all of the districts of the city were making subscriptions this morning for the Liberty Loan bonds, after the Captain of each district had explained to them that acting President Gerald of the Board of Police Commissioners had requested that the patrolmen be told that they could avail themselves of the opportunity to purchase the bonds, to be paid for in weekly installments.

WAR LOAN OVERSUBSCRIBED BY FIVE HUNDRED MILLION

Indications That Every Federal Reserve District, With Possible Exception of Two, Want More Than Minimum Quota.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Liberty Loan has been oversubscribed by many hundreds of millions of dollars. Treasury officials estimated at noon, when the books closed, that the total of subscriptions would be at least $2,500,000,000, an over-subscription of 50 per cent. Indications based upon telephone and telegraph reports from all sections were at that hour that every Federal Reserve district in the country with the possible exception of two, would subscribe its minimum quota and that many of the districts would over-subscribe the maximum.

Total subscriptions soared during the forenoon. Officials estimated before the books closed that a total of $2,500,000,000 might be reached. Secretary McAdoo announced he did not think there would be another offering of the remaining $3,000,000,000 authorized by Congress before this fall.

Reports from every section to the Treasury told of an avalanche of last-minute small subscriptions. At noon it appeared that every Federal Reserve district with the possible exception of Atlanta and Kansas City, had exceeded its minimum allotment.

Districts Slow in Reports. Reports from these two districts were slow in coming in. With thousands of banks to be feared from in the two districts, however, it seemed likely that the minimum allotment would be reached in each case.

Reports by telephone and telegraph from every section of the country told of an avalanche of small subscriptions at the last moment. Scores of small investors were standing in line at the hundreds of banks throughout the country during the final hour. The small subscriber apparently had responded with an enthusiasm and eagerness the most sanguine hopes of officials.

Swelling the huge total by millions came the belated subscriptions of the banks that held back till the last moment. The loan is in every sense a popular one. There has been a heavy demand for $50 and $100 bonds in every industrial community and in many rural communities.

The exact total of all subscriptions from every source may not be known for some time after the closing of the books. But the success of the campaign is a triumph for democracy. It is the unmistakable expression of America's determination to carry this war for the protection of American rights and the re-establishment of peace and liberty throughout the world to a swift and successful conclusion.

"I am deeply grateful to the bankers, the business men, the women of America, the patriotic organizations and the people generally, without whose cordial co-operation and enthusiastic support success could not have been won. It has been an inspiring campaign and has had a glorious finish."

New York Alone Subscribes for $1,000,000,000 in War Loan. NEW YORK, June 15.—Tabulations at 1 p. m. showed an aggregate of $1,000,000,000 subscribed in New York to the Liberty Loan.

"The success of the Liberty Loan demonstrates that the war is a people's war," said Guy Emerson, vice president of the National Bank of Commerce and treasurer of the Liberty Loan Publicity Committee.

Taking into consideration the huge size of the loan and the number of people subscribing, it is a greater success than the subscription in any country in this or any other war. Prior to this loan there were 300,000 bondholders in the United States. Now there are millions.

Long lines of subscribers still crowded the lobbies of virtually every bank in the city when the books officially closed. It was announced that all those in the line at noon would be allowed to subscribe.

Estimated $80,000,000 Subscription in the Kansas City District. KANSAS CITY, June 15.—Estimates that $80,000,000 had been subscribed in the Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank District (tenth) were made shortly before noon today by the tabulators, who were swamped with applications. The district allotment was $100,000,000. The total from Kansas City was placed at $15,000,000, the allotment being $2,000,000 in excess of that figure.

Dallas District Allotment of $40,000,000. DALLAS, Tex., June 15.—Although large piles of Liberty Loan subscriptions had not been tabulated when the books closed at noon today, officials of the Eleventh Federal Reserve District estimated that the district's allotted total of $40,000,000 had been over-subscribed by at least $1,000,000.

Frederick Wideman, chairman of the Bond Committee of the Mayor's conference, announced today that the ordinance framed by the committee, providing for the submission of a proposition to issue $15,000,000 bonds for public improvements, will be introduced next Friday in the Board of Aldermen. It provides for a special election to be held Nov. 2, as forecast recently in the Post-Dispatch.

Included in the eight items for which the bonds are proposed is $2,000,000 for a municipal convention hall, $5,000,000 for converting the River des Peres into a sewer and constructing an industrial railway through the valley and $10,000,000 for docks and combined railroad and river terminals.

Other items are motor equipment for the Fire Department, reconstruction of sewers and improvement of parks and playgrounds. Voters will have the privilege of voting for or against each ordinance separately.

Comptroller Neils and Harland Bartholomew, engineer of the City Plan Commission, have been appointed by the Board of Aldermen, at the suggestion of Mayor Kipl, to acquire options on 50 acres on both sides of the River des Peres to prevent speculators from buying the land and deriving the advantage from increased values which will result from the contemplated improvements.

BRITISH ADVANCE AT THREEPOINTS

Attack South and East of Messines and Astride Ypres-Comines Canal and Gain All Objectives and Take Some Prisoners.

English Have Moved Forward 500 to 1000 Yards on Seven-Mile Front Since June 7.

High Ground Where Germans Have Resisted Stubbornly Stormed—Fort on Red Sea Captured.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, June 15.—The British struck another blow last night in the sector near Messines. They gained all their objectives, advancing south and east of Messines and astride the Ypres-Comines Canal.

The British now occupy the former front trenches of the Germans from the River Lys to the River Warnae. As a result of last night's operations and the constant pressure exerted, the British have advanced their lines from 500 to 1000 yards on a front of seven miles.

The official announcement reads: "Our troops attacked yesterday evening south and east of Messines and astride the Ypres-Comines Canal. The enemy's resistance was quickly overcome and the whole of our objectives were gained in both localities. We captured more than 150 prisoners, one Howitzer and seven machine guns."

"As a result of these operations and the constant pressure maintained by our troops since June 7, we now occupy the German front trenches from the River Lys to the River Warnae, and have advanced our line from 500 to 1000 yards on the whole front from the River Warnae to the Elzelebe, a distance of about seven miles."

"We made a successful raid last night north of Lens. Many Germans were killed in hand-to-hand fighting and a few prisoners were taken by us."

"We carried out a successful raid this morning on the Arras battle front east of Monchy-le-Preux."

"Hostile positions of considerable importance on high ground, known as Infantry Hill, the possession of which has been stubbornly contested by the enemy on a number of occasions, were stormed by our troops on a front of over three-quarters of a mile. The whole of our objectives were gained and we captured 175 prisoners, including three officers and two machine guns."

BRITISH MERCHANT CRUISER IS SUNK

All but One Person Saved When Avenger Is Torpedoed in North Sea.

LONDON, June 15.—The British armed merchant cruiser Avenger was torpedoed and sunk in the North Sea Wednesday night. All but one were saved.

British Navy Forces Capture Port of East Shore of Red Sea. LONDON, June 15.—An official announcement issued last evening said: "The commander-in-chief in the East Indies reports that yesterday his command captured the port at Salifu after a resistance of three hours."

"The fort is situated on the eastern shore of the Red Sea in the Khamis archipelago, 100 miles off the coast between Lohela and Hodeida."

"Ninety-four prisoners, three machine guns and two mountain guns and military stores, camels and the harbor plant were captured. One Britisher was killed."

Fort Salifu is on Kamaran Bay, in Yemen province, southwestern Arabia. Large rock salt works are located there. The captured fort lies quickly on the north of the Gulf of Aden. A force of Turks to the north of Aden has been long in the way of the British in attempts they have been making to advance from that city. The purpose of seizing the fort was to facilitate the formation of a movement to work behind this force and capture or disperse it."

German Reconnoitering Parties Discovered in Verdun Region. PARIS, June 15.—Reconnoitering parties were sent out by the Germans last night in the Verdun sector at Hill 304 and on the heights of the Meuse, the War Office announced. They were caught under the French fire and dispersed.

Berlin Admits Retirement at Two Points in Belgium. BERLIN, via London, June 15.—Retirement of the German forces at two points on the front in Belgium is reported in today's official statement. The Germans were pressed back by the British between Lille and the region of the river Douve and also southeast of Warocques.

RUTH LAW LANDS SAFELY WITH HER BURNING BIPLANE

Volplanes From Height of 5000 Feet, and Beats Out the Flames.

TO RESUME HER FLIGHT

Machine is Being Repaired After Being Forced to Stop St. Louis-Chicago Trip.

After Ruth Law had challenged disaster by making an ascent at Jefferson Barracks in her biplane in a treacherous wind at 2:08 o'clock yesterday afternoon and swooping low over the city, she was forced to give up the attempt. A good look, her airplane caught fire at about 5:45 o'clock when she was 5000 feet in the air, near Lexington, Ill. She glided safely to earth, landing in an open field about a mile from Lexington, and extinguished the flames by beating them with her laprobe.

Her machine was not seriously damaged and she announced this morning that she would ascend at about noon and continue her flight to Chicago. Lexington is 16 miles from Bloomington and 110 miles from Chicago.

Wind Blew Flames From Her. The fire was caused by the breaking of the gas tank. Gasoline spread over the mechanism back of the aviator. As she rapidly descended the wind blew the flames away from her and saved her from injury. The gas tank had to be repaired and she gave up flying for the day and accepted an invitation to the home of L. B. Strayer at Lexington.

She called up Charles Oliver, her husband, at St. Louis, and told him what had happened and he told her not to try to complete the flight until he and the mechanics could reach Lexington and go over the machine. Oliver and the mechanics reached Lexington this morning.

In Air Pocket at Barracks. Miss Law nearly had an accident soon after she started from the barracks. Her biplane went into an air pocket and dropped about 75 feet. When it seemed that it would hit the earth, it was brought under control and sailed to a safer altitude.

In the flight over the business section of St. Louis, Miss Law violated all the rules of safety by flying near the tops of the high buildings on which crowds were gathered, and "bumping" the crowds with edgewise printed on paper discs bearing the picture of the aviator. After passing over the Railway Exchange Building, she ascended rapidly and disappeared in a direction slightly east of north. The winds were unfavorable and her flight was slow.

Wind Prevented Ruth Law From Making Quick Getaway. Unfriendly winds prevented Ruth Law from making good time in her flight from Jefferson Barracks to the business section yesterday. It was 14 minutes, according to unofficial timing, but this does not allow for time required to ascend to the desired altitude.

The distance from the barracks to the Courthouse, according to Street Department records, is 18 miles.

An automobile, if permitted to ignore the speed regulations, could make the distance in less than 14 minutes. A horse, traveling at an easy gait, would make it in an hour and a quarter to an hour and a half. The trolley schedule from Market street to the barracks is 14 minutes. A good pedestrian could walk it in two and one-half hours.

Former Head of Sisters Dies. The Rev. Mother Agnes Gonzaga Ryan, 62 years old, former superior general of the Sisters of St. Joseph, died yesterday at the mother house of the order in Carondelet. She had been ill several months.

She had been in the community of Sisters of St. Joseph 45 years. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning. Archbishop Glennon and priests will officiate at services.

GIRL KILLED WHEN THROWN FROM AUTO

MISS NANCY JOHNSON.

MISS NANCY JOHNSON KILLED ON AUTO RIDE

Granddaughter of Charles P. Johnson; Was Member of Party Going to Picnic.

Miss Nancy Johnson, 18 years old, of 6023 Westminster place, daughter of Ralph O. Johnson, financial reporter for the Post-Dispatch, and granddaughter of former Lieutenant-Governor Charles P. Johnson, was killed at 6:35 p. m. yesterday when she was thrown from a skidding automobile on Pennsylvania avenue near the Clayton road.

She was one of a party of young men and women, chaperoned by her cousin, Mrs. H. A. Steinwender, of the Cathedral Apartments, and Mrs. Theodore Marx of 461 Washington boulevard, who were going to Monroeville, St. Louis County, for a picnic in honor of Miss Guida Marx of Cincinnati.

The machine from which Miss Johnson was thrown was the last in line of three. James Winstead, 18 years old, of 4233 Maryland avenue, was driving.

Others in the car besides Miss Johnson were Miss Marx, Mitchell Leisen, 19, 3777 Vernon avenue; Miss Gale Anderson, 18, 5052 Minerva avenue; Roger General, 15, 2812 Von Versen avenue, and Warren Drew, 15, 5737 Vernon avenue.

Winstead told the police that he was driving north on Pennsylvania avenue about 35 miles an hour when the machine skidded at a soft place in the road. The machine machine did not turn over, but it swerved so sharply that all the occupants were thrown out.

Miss Johnson's head struck a stone in the road. She was taken to St. John's Hospital, where surgeons found that her skull was fractured and that death had been instantaneous. Rev. General was injured.

Miss Johnson was graduated at Mary Institute last year and recently had completed the first year of a course at the Washington University Art School.

Maxwellton Park Owner Tenders Property to First Regiment.

Joseph A. Maxwell, owner of Maxwellton Park on the St. Charles Rock road where the First Regiment of the Missouri National Guard is encamped, has authorized Col. Donnelly to use as much of the park as he needs for the accommodation of the soldiers who are being drilled there.

A considerable part of the grounds are under cultivation, but Maxwell told Donnelly to take in the cultivated grounds if he needed them. He also laid water mains throughout the ground so that each regiment is provided with running water. Two additional stables were placed at the disposal of the regiment today.

Two Optometrists Are Indicted on Perjury Charge.

He would have insisted on an investigation, no matter what might have been the effect on legislation, but in reality we had only vague rumors, which other members said were always to be heard during a session.

Evidence obtained yesterday from W. F. Donovan, an optometrist of Springfield, will, it is said at the Municipal Courts building, probably result in one or possibly two additional indictments.

The evidence is reported to directly connect a member of the Legislature with a contract for the passage of the optometry bill. Attorney-General McAllister, although refusing to discuss Donovan's evidence, said it was of "great importance."

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION BEGINS FOOD PRICE INQUIRY

Next Packing Industry to Be Investigated First Action Was Ordered by the President.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Federal Trade Commission began today its investigation into the causes of advancing food prices. The inquiry will be part of the food survey to be undertaken by the Department of Agriculture when the administration food bills are passed and information developed will be turned over to the new food administration, to be created under the bill.

The trade commission will go first into the meat-packing industry. Commissioner Davis at the head of a corps of economists and investigators will start for Chicago within a few days.

In a bill just passed by Congress the Trade Commission is given $250,000 for the investigation which was ordered by President Wilson some months ago.

SERVICE BOARD TO RECOMMEND NEW GARBAGE PLANT

Will Propose Erection Rather Than Purchase of Reduction Establishment.

WOULD BE INSIDE CITY

Reports on Cost to Municipality of Two Plans Which It Investigated.

The Board of Public Service, in a report to be submitted to the Board of Aldermen this afternoon, will recommend the erection and operation of a garbage reduction plant by the city.

The report will also recommend that the plant be located within the city limits and will indicate the preference of the Board of Public Service for the erection of the so-called Cobwell type of plant, on which the city already has propositions from the corporation controlling this system for the erection of a plant here.

The report contains a comparison of the cost which would devolve upon the city in the purchase of the plant of the Indiana Reduction Co., which now hold the contract for the reduction of the city's garbage, and the cost incidental to the building and operating of a new plant.

Figures on Indiana Plant. The Indiana company offers to sell its plant to the city for $75,000 and about $75,000 would be needed for immediate improvements. The board estimates that the operating cost of the plant would be $125,000 and all fixed charges, including the operating cost, $170,000. On an estimated 45,000 tons of garbage reduced annually, the gross profit would be $25,000, giving the city a net yearly income of $15,000.

The erection of the Cobwell type of plant, under the first of two propositions which the city has from the company, contingent upon the closing of a contract before July 1, the plant can be erected for an initial cost of $250,000, of which $75,000 would be spent for machinery, the report states.

The operating cost of such a plant would be $135,000 a year, the report points out, while the fixed charges on the investment and the operating cost, would be $182,500. The revenue annually, based on an estimated annual tonnage of 45,000, would be $253,500, giving the city a profit from the plant of $69,000 a year.

Second Proposition. The second proposition of the Cobwell corporation, contingent upon the making of a contract by Aug. 1, is for the erection of a plant at a cost of $600,000, on which the operating cost and fixed charges would be $135,700 a year, and would give the city an estimated profit on reduction of $7,300 a year.

In the report it is pointed out that the contract of the city with the Indiana company expires in September of next year, and that in the opinion of the board the only solution of the vexatious problem of garbage reduction here is the erection and operation of a plant by the city.

The board opposed the purchase of the Indiana company's plant on the ground that it is not odorless and has frequently been complained of, and in addition is out of the jurisdiction of the city, being in Illinois.

The plant declares, but no mention of a probable site is made. The Post-Dispatch, in an article published last Monday pointing out the need of a municipally owned plant here, suggested locating such a plant on the levee on property already owned by the city. There the plant would have adequate railroad and river transportation facilities.

The profits in the reduction of garbage come from the sale of grease rendered, and of bones. The incinerating system of reducing was not considered by the board.

FOUR FRENCH SHIPS SUNK IN WEEK

Four of Them of More Than 1000 Tons Capacity.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Four French ships, in charge of mail and mail, were sunk by more than 100 tons, one under that size and three fishing boats were sunk by mines or submarines in the week ending June 14. Six ships were successfully attacked, while 108 vessels of all nations entered French ports and 1015 left.

KEET CASE INQUIRY UNCOVERS TRAIL TO PLOTS IN ST. LOUIS

Federal Investigation of German Conspiracy Clews Obtained Now Centers Here.

EARLY ARRESTS EXPECTED

Department of Justice Agents Get Further Statements From Piersol in Kansas City.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 15.—The Federal investigation of alleged abduction plotting in Springfield was resumed today with the arrival from Kansas City of two special investigators of the Department of Justice.

They said they had returned to Springfield after obtaining certain statements from Claude J. Piersol, who is in jail at Kansas City, where he was taken following unsuccessful attempts to force a confession from him at Stockton, Mo., last Saturday night, in the disappearance and death of Lloyd Keet. Piersol is said to have tried to induce others to enter a scheme to kidnap a St. Louis munitions maker.

While admitting that the information obtained from Piersol threw light on the conspiracies said to have been formed here in the last nine months, neither of the Federal agents would indicate along what line they would work in Springfield. It was intimated, however, that the Keet mystery had a close connection with their mission back to this city.

According to the Government agents, the German plotting in Springfield is of minor importance, insofar as accomplishment here is concerned, but the investigation done in Springfield in the last few days has put them on a trail here in the last nine months, neither of the Federal agents would indicate along what line they would work in Springfield. It was intimated, however, that the Keet mystery had a close connection with their mission back to this city.

Several arrests, they said, might be expected soon in St. Louis and other cities of the country, growing out of the clews obtained first at Springfield.

TRAINING CAMP APPLICATIONS

Blanks Will Be Sent to Enrollment Office Monday.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Maj. Paul Malone, in charge of enrollment for military instruction in the Central Department, has received word from Washington that blanks for aspirants for admission to the second series of reserve officers' military training camps will be sent to him on Monday. The camp will be opened on Aug. 27.

Maj. Malone said that members of the national guard now in Federal service could apply through the regular channels and if accepted would be ordered into training camps on detached duty. Guardsmen not in the Federal service may apply for admission to camps, but must enclose with their applications statements from their Adjutant-Generals recommending them and agreeing to discharge them or furlough them during the period of training.

TWO GET ARMY COMMISSIONS

St. Louisans to Depart Soon for Fort Leavenworth.

Aubrey Stanhope, 22 years old, son of Russell Stanhope of 4343 Lindell boulevard, formerly British consul in St. Louis, and Lindley Francis, son of James M. Francis, real estate dealer, have received word from Washington of their acceptance as Second Lieutenants in the United States army.

Both will depart shortly for Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where they will enter training. Young Stanhope is to serve in the artillery and Francis in the cavalry. Both took examinations at Jefferson Barracks several months ago. The young men served with the militia on the border at Laredo, Tex.

PRICES OF FOOD ADVANCE 9 PER CENT IN ONE MONTH

Average Increase for the Year Ending April 16, Was 32 Per Cent for Entire Country.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Retail food prices in the United States averaged 9 per cent increase between March 15 and April 16, as shown in statistics of the labor department. It was the sharpest advance in any one month since the beginning of the European war.

The heaviest increase was in flour, 15 per cent; bacon 15 per cent; potatoes 14 per cent. Every article of food except coffee showed an advance, among them the following: Sirloin steak 8 per cent; round steak and rib roast 8 per cent; pork chops 13 per cent; ham 9 per cent; lard 15 per cent; hens 5 per cent; canned salmon 7 per cent; fresh eggs 10 per cent; creamery butter 11 per cent; cheese 3 per cent; milk 2 per cent; bread 5 per cent; cornmeal 13 per cent; rice 4 per cent; onions 15 per cent; beans 15 per cent; sugar 11 per cent; tea 1 per cent.

In the year ending with April 16, average food prices advanced 32 per cent. Onions during the 12 months went up 175 per cent; beans 15 per cent; sugar 11 per cent; flour 72 per cent.

AIRPLANE PROGRAM CALLS FOR OUTLAY OF $600,000,000

"Put Yankee Punch Into War Airplanes Logical Machines for Americans," Says Gen. Squier.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—"Put the Yankee punch into the war," is the way Brigadier-General Squier, who directs the aviation service, expressed it today in discussing the great airplane program which, if passed by Congress, will involve appropriations of something like $600,000,000 in the beginning.

"Against the German 'goose' are the logical fighting machines for Americans. The game ideally suits the American temperament and every young American worthy of the name should be keen to join our flying army."

"Swamp the Germans from the sky, blind the Prussian cannon and the time would be ripe to release an enormous flock of flying fighters to raid and destroy military camps, ammunition depots and military establishments of all kinds. The firing upon troops by machine guns from airplanes is becoming common and more accurate. Once given an upper hand, the flying machine becomes a frightful engine of destruction."

BELEVILLE OBTAINS ARMY AVIATION CAMP

Government Will Take Possession of 640-Acre Tract in July.

Belleville has been selected as one of the sites for a United States Army aviation training camp. C. P. Tomlinson, President of the Greater Belleville Board of Trade, received a telegram to that effect from Washington last night.

The site selected is in Shiloh Valley Township, six miles north of Belleville, in the heart of the farming district of St. Clair County. Options have been taken on 640 acres by the Board of Trade and presented to the War Department. E. A. Daley, Secretary of the Board, has been in Washington several days personally presenting Belleville's claims.

The tract offered to the Government will be 640 acres, adjoining which can be used and probably will be used for another unit.

The buildings to be erected will be 3000 feet in length. They will include machine shops, a hospital, barracks, officers' quarters and hangars for 72 machines. For the construction, which will be begun without delay, 4,000,000 feet of lumber will be required. Bids have been asked from St. Louis lumber firms, and the contract, it is expected, will be distributed among them.

The amount to be spent on the plant and equipment, according to Lambert, will be between $750,000 and $1,500,000.

The buildings and all other details of the training station will be exactly the same as at the other seven stations scattered over the country, so that men in training, going from one station to another, will work under the same conditions.

REED ATTACKS FOOD CONTROL BILL IN THREE-HOUR SPEECH

Declares Lever Measure Would Give "Some Hoover" Greater Power Than Ever Was Wielded by a King.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Senator Reed of Missouri, in a three-hour speech in the Senate yesterday, again attacked the Lever bill, putting control of the food system into the hands of a food administrator. Reed said the measure would give "some Hoover" power to dictate the food menu for the whole nation.

He maintained that no such power as the "Lever bill contemplates was ever wielded by a King, a potentate, a Caesar, or a Kaiser."

"I do not intend to attack Mr. Hoover's integrity or his intelligence," said Senator Reed. "I could not say so against him as to that. But I do criticize him as a man who is out of touch with American ideals and American principles."

"The trouble with Mr. Hoover is that he has lived abroad so long he does not understand the needs of this country. Why, if we pass this bill, Hoover would have authority to say what the mothers of the land may eat and what they may feed the baby in arms."

The cabinet submitted its resignation to King Alexander, but this was merely a formality, and the Ministers will meet later to frame a decree of political amnesty.

No foreign troops have entered Athens, and their presence around the city is almost unnoticed.

Senator Jonnart, the French envoy, has informed the Government that he has held up at Salamis will be delivered immediately and that ships bound for Piraeus with wheat, maize and coal will be ordered to proceed to their destination with the least possible delay.

Pro-Germans Greets Will Be Interred at Malta.

LONDON, June 15.—It has been decided that all the members of the Hellenic royal family except the new King, will leave Greece, accompanied by the most prominent pro-German politicians and military leaders, who form part of the entourage of former King Constantine.

Related dispatches from Athens confirm reports that the abdication of King Constantine and his departure from the Greek capital were unattended by any serious disturbance. There was much excitement and noise among the former King's partisans and street gatherings of the so-called reservists, but no bloodshed or rioting.

Large crowds gathered about the palace to witness the departure of the fallen monarch, but Constantine slipped through the garden and, emerging by a little used wicket gate, jumped into a waiting automobile and went at full speed to a point on the coast where a French destroyer awaited him. He was accompanied by his wife and entire family, with the exception of Alexander, for Corfu.

The dispatches say that at Corfu the deposed monarch expected to "tranship to a British war vessel unless the royal yacht was available, in which case he would board the yacht and sail under the escort of British warships. The reports as to his ultimate destination vary, some saying Denmark and others Italy, a villa on Lake Maggiore being mentioned as a likely place of residence.

The day prior to Constantine's departure, Alexander took the oath of fealty in the presence of the Metropolitan of Athens, the Cabinet Ministers and the Princes, with the exception of the Crown Prince. Constantine and his wife were absent from the ceremony. A crowd outside the palace tried to prevent the entrance of the metropolitan, but the opposition was overcome.

It is said that former Premier Gounaris and other pro-German partisans will probably be interned at Malta. A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. says that King Alexander has issued a proclamation declaring that he will carry out his father's mandate "in the spirit so brilliantly traced for him" by Constantine and expressing the conviction that the people will contribute their share toward extricating the country from its difficulties.

It was an impressive scene when Gen. Pershing stood yesterday morning with uncovered head at the tomb of Napoleon and paid silent tribute to one of the world's greatest commanders.

The American General, accompanied by his staff, was received at the Hotel de Ville by Gen. Niox, the military commander of the historic monument, and Gen. Malterre.

When the American party entered the museum grounds leading to the building they encountered a number of veterans of the French war who have their home at that institution. One of these was a soldier of the Crimea, who still wore the ancient uniform and carried his breast decorations of the old days.

The veteran saluted and Gen. Pershing stopped and extended his hand, saying: "It is a great honor for a young soldier like myself to press the hand of an old soldier like yourself who has seen such glorious service."

Gen. Niox conducted the American commander to the vast rotunda of the Invalides, with its walls hung with battle flags, and thence the party proceeded below to the crypt where the sarcophagus of Napoleon's repose. Entrance to the crypt is rigorously limited and it is seldom that any one is admitted except crowned heads or a former ruler, as in the case of ex-President Roosevelt when he visited Paris.

Gen. Pershing stood for some moments gazing at the impressive spectacle. He was then conducted to the artillery museum where precious relics of Napoleon are preserved. He was particularly interested in Napoleon's sword, which the great commander brought from the battle of Jena. He examined the sword closely and marked its difference from the modern weapon. He then took up Napoleon's grand cross of the Legion of Honor and examined that also with care. An hour was spent by the Americans in the building.

Warm Greeting by Deputies.
Gen. Pershing was given a remarkable greeting by the Deputies when he entered the diplomatic box in the Chamber of Deputies at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Just before Premier Ribot arose to tell the chamber what the allies proposed doing in Greece. The first part of the session partook of the character of an official parliamentary reception to Gen. Pershing, the United States figure in the theme of an eloquent oration by Minister of Justice Viviani.

When they became aware of Gen. Pershing's entry, the deputies arose and stood cheering until the General bowed his acknowledgments. Then the gaiety caught up the enthusiasm and vio-

GEN. PERSHING TO LEAVE PARIS SOON FOR FRONT

American Commander Will Make an Extended Visit to Fighting Lines.

EAGER TO GET TO WORK

Time in French Capital Taken Up So Far Largely by Social Entertainment.

PARIS, June 15.—Although Gen. Pershing's first day in Paris was naturally filled with overhauling social affairs, he managed nevertheless to utilize odd moments for business. It is understood that he will soon go for an extended trip to the front.

Following his attendance at the Chamber of Deputies, the General and his staff motored to an aviation field to watch aerial evolutions of French experts. The French airmen outdid themselves in performing spirals, loop the loops and other tricks that frankly astonished the Americans, who had never seen such feats in aviation.

After an hour with the aviators Gen. Pershing returned to Paris and conferred with the Minister of Marine. He then rested briefly while the ever enthusiastic crowd waited patiently outside his hotel.

After his rest he went to keep a dinner engagement with the Minister of War, Painleve. While both meetings with the Ministers were largely of a social order, it is understood that they afforded the American commander an opportunity to at least broach the work into which he and all his following are so eager to plunge, and which they hope to begin by Monday at the latest.

Gen. Pershing stole a brief period between his visits to Admiral Lacaze and M. Painleve to receive first the French and then the American newspaper men. He consented graciously, but not too willingly, to be sketched from life by a young Parisian woman artist who worked while the correspondents piled him with questions.

Gen. Pershing spoke almost forthrightly of the prospect of being able to take up his work immediately. It was characteristic that during his talk he never used the first personal pronoun, but always referred to "us."

Engagements of a social character will largely take up today.

Guests of Marshal Joffre.
The American General and his staff were the guests of Marshal Joffre at lunch today at the Military Club.

The French Academy has resolved that its officers shall wait on Gen. Pershing with a greeting from the academy and invite him to attend a public reception on June 22.

Some of Gen. Pershing's subordinates are already at work. A delegation of American officers, accompanied by a French staff officer, has begun a tour of the principal railroads with the object of familiarizing themselves with the French transport organization. They will investigate both the principal road systems and special lines at the front. The delegation spent yesterday at Troyes and then went to Brienne le Chateau.

What President Meant When He Said Germany Planned "To Throw Belt of Military Power Across Europe Into Asia"

"From Hamburg to the Persian Gulf, the net is spread," declared the President in his Flag Day speech. The black belt across the map shows the net of Teutonic power and influence as it actually exists today through conquest in war and alliances.

lated the tradition of the House by joining in the applause.

The Deputies again arose and turned toward Gen. Pershing cheering when M. Ribot finished his speech by calling President Wilson's phrase in his message to Russia. "The day has come to conquer or submit," and declaring, "We will not submit; we will conquer."

M. Viviani followed M. Ribot, describing the spirit of the United States and the principles for which both republics were fighting. Gen. Pershing was compelled to respond to another demonstration after M. Viviani's speech, and at 4 o'clock he left the chamber, followed by a storm of cheering.

Premier Ribot said in his speech: "The people of France fully understand the deep significance of the arrival of Gen. Pershing in France. It is one of the greatest events in history that the people of the United States should come here to struggle, not in the spirit of ambition or conquest but for the noble ideals of justice and liberty. The arrival of Gen. Pershing is a new message from the allies. M. Viviani declared amid great applause:

"Restitution to an outraged people of that which has been taken from them by violence, repression of all injustice and the institution of guarantees against a recurrence of such a war, as well as the institution of a society of nations which will uphold and protect the pacific progress of mankind, such effect as the United States should have declared for in his illustrious words: 'Victory or subjugation.' In this we are completely in accord and we will not submit, but will vanquish."

Man Who Was Beaten Gets $11,000
A jury in Judge Calhoun's court gave a verdict today for $11,000 in favor of Edward Breckinridge of Twelfth and Howard streets against the Mobile & Ohio Railroad Co. on account of injuries inflicted on him by Thomas McCormick and William Barron, special agents of the company. McCormick and Barron were investigating thefts from the company's East Side freight house and asked Breckinridge for information which he was unable to give them.

HOW PRUSSIA'S AIMS HAVE BEEN REALIZED

President Tells of the Throwing of Belt of Military Power Across Central Europe.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—In spite of rain, a large crowd heard President Wilson's notable flag address yesterday at the celebration at the base of the Washington Monument. All through the speech rain came down softly and a secret service man held an umbrella over the President's head, while hundreds of umbrellas hid the faces of most of the hearers. Secretary Lansing introduced the President, and most of the members of the Cabinet and others prominent in public life were present.

In speaking of the Germans' plans of conquest, the greater part of which had been accomplished, the President said: "Their plan was to throw a broad belt of German military power and political control across the very center of Europe and beyond the Mediterranean into the heart of Asia; and Austria-Hungary was to be as much their tool and pawn as Serbia or Bulgaria or Turkey or the ponderous states of the East. Austria-Hungary, indeed, was to become part of the central German empire, absorbed and dominated by the same forces and influences that had originally cemented the German states themselves. The dream had a heart nowhere else. It reached the idea of solidarity of race entirely. The choice of peoples played no part in it at all. It contemplated binding together racial and political units which could be kept together only by force—Czechs, Magyars, Croats, Serbians, Rumanians, Turks, Armenians—the proud states of Bohemia and Hungary, the stout little commonwealths of the Balkans, the indomitable Turkey, the subtle peoples of the East. These people did not wish to be united. They ardently desired to direct their own affairs, would be satisfied only by undisputed independence. They could be kept quiet only by the presence or the constant threat of armed men. They would live under a common Power only by sheer compulsion and await the day of revolution. But the German military statesmen had reckoned with all that and were ready to deal with it in their own way."

"And they have actually carried the greater part of that amazing plan into execution. Look how things stand. Austria is at their mercy. It has acted, not upon its own initiative or upon the choice of its own people, but at Berlin's dictation ever since the war began. Its people now desire peace, but cannot have it until leave is granted from Berlin.

"The so-called central Powers, in fact, but a single Power. Serbia is at its mercy, should its hands be but for a moment freed. Bulgaria has consented to its will and Rumania is overrun. The Turkish armies, which Germans trained, are serving Germany, certainly not themselves, and the guns of German warships lying in the harbor at Constantinople remind Turkish statesmen every day that they have no choice but to take their orders from Berlin. From Hamburg to the Persian Gulf the net is spread."

WINTER NOT LINGERING IN THIS SPRING'S LAP

Present Coolness Not Abnormal for This Season, Official Records Show.

Despite the general opinion that the spring and early summer this year have been abnormally cool, official records of the Weather Bureau show that there has been little departure from the usual conditions.

April temperatures were below normal, the mean temperature being 53.7 degrees, compared with 54.4 last year and 62.3 in 1915. In 1907 the mean temperature for April was 47 degrees.

The lowest temperature recorded in May was 58 degrees on May 8, which was 2 degrees higher than the record for May 2, 1915. The mean temperature for May this year was 59.6 degrees, compared with 58 degrees last year.

The highest temperature thus far recorded for this year was 90 degrees on May 13. This was the warmest May weather since 1886, when a maximum May temperature of 94 degrees was recorded.

The mean temperature for the first 14 days of June this year has been 72.3 degrees, compared with 71.5 degrees last year. The highest temperature ever recorded in June was 102 degrees, in 1901.

Thus far the June rainfall has been only .46 of an inch, which is 1.54 inches below the normal for the first half of the month. There have been no heavy rains, but frequent moderate rains have given the impression of unusual wetness.

GIRL SHOTS MOTHER'S CALLER
Mayor of Bluefield, W. Va., Dies From Wounds Inflicted by Young Woman.
BLUEFIELD, W. Va., June 15.—Mayor E. E. Carter of Bluefield died last night from pistol wounds received last night. Miss Beulah Young, held on a charge of shooting the Mayor, has confessed, according to the Prosecuting Attorney, that she fired on him when he refused to stop beating her mother, Mrs. Miller Young. Mrs. Young was held as an accessory.

Mayor Carter was married and the father of several children. He is said to have called frequently on Mrs. Young.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations, after a personal inspection of the Great Lakes training station at Chicago has reported to Secretary Daniels that conditions are very good and the morale excellent. Complaints had been made that the men were badly cared for.

"SCIENCE OF LIFE" LABORATORY FOR WASHINGTON U.

One of New Departments Made Possible by Rockefeller Foundation Gift.

CHECK FOR $1,000,000

Enables Advanced Research in Surgery, Medicine and Pediatrics.

The General Education Board, founded by John D. Rockefeller, has written its check for $1,000,000 and will mail it in a few days to Washington University for use in financing research in surgery, medicine and pediatrics.

Robert S. Brookings, president of the Washington University Corporation, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter this morning that a portion of the Rockefeller million would be invested in Liberty Bonds, as a patriotic duty, and that the remainder would be put into the highest grade of railroad bonds to net the university 8 per cent a year interest.

The Rockefeller gift, as has been told, was obtained by raising $500,000 in St. Louis toward a $1,000,000 endowment for medical school records. This sum has been obtained within a year from Edward Mallinckrodt of 19 Westmoreland place, John T. Milliken of 25 Portland place and Mrs. Mary Culver of 5837 Cabanne avenue, each of whom gave $100,000.

Offer to Two Schools.
"With this money," Brookings explained, "the university expects to add to the sum of the world's knowledge in medicine in a way that will justify such a large endowment. The offer of a gift of a million dollars from the Rockefeller Foundation came voluntarily, in recognition of the great service that Washington University's medical school has given."

Washington University and Johns Hopkins at Baltimore were the only schools to which the Rockefeller offer of an endowment was made.

"The specific purpose of the Rockefeller gift to these two great universities was to create full-time teaching and research departments in medicine, surgery and pediatrics. Experts will be employed at large salaries to devote their entire time to hospital work, teaching and research. They will be permitted to do private work, but not for personal gain, as all fees paid for their services will go to the university and added to the fund for research."

Free if Unable to Pay.
Brookings explained that salaried members of the research staff would give free treatment to ward patients at Barnes Hospital and that this would be in the nature of teaching, or class work. If their services are required for diagnosis or persons unable to pay, the fees go to the university, so that the doctors do not profit financially.

The $1,000,000 endowment fund will be kept intact, and only the interest, about $50,000 annually, will be used. About $25,000 of this will be paid in salaries, and the other $25,000 will be used for laboratory equipment for research in preventive medicine and new methods of treatment.

Department of Metabolism.
Brookings, with a touch of pride, told of the establishment about six months ago of a department of metabolism, in charge of a biological chemist, and selected by that probably the best selection of Perchic, meaning gallant father, or Percher, meaning dear father.

The name is pronounced "Perchicene," says the figure. The favorite rendering among the populace has been "Perchane."

AIR WARFARE SERIOUS FOR ENGLAND, WESTLICHE POST SAYS

Question of International Law Need Not Be Considered in Attacks on Cities, Editorial Declares.

The Westliche Post, German-language daily today printed an editorial on the German aerial attack on London, entitled "The Latest Phase of the Air War."

"The serious part of the affair for England," the editorial says, "is that the attacks were made from so great a height that the defense guns could not reach them, and that the British flyers could not follow them. So numerous have these attacks become that there is talk of removing the seat of Government from London to some less exposed place."

The question of international law in this matter need not be considered, for if aerial attacks on cities lack justification, yet in the course of the war international law has been violated by both sides in like measure.

This latest catastrophe to London means that the Germans have perfected flying force with which enemy flyers cannot contend. Through the new German flying force, which appears immune to enemy attacks, the air war has entered on a new phase."

Other stated were Clinton Portella, 1339 Thruway avenue; Louis Laasrus, East St. Louis; Thomas Grace, negro, New Orleans; Stanley Rosakowsky, no home; and William Craven, 225 Franklin avenue.

GERMANY GETS MILK IN U. S.

Large Quantities of Condensed and Evaporated Product Shipped.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Large quantities of condensed or evaporated milk have been bought recently by German agents and shipped to Germany through neutral ports, the Department of Commerce was informed today by the War Committee of the condensed milk industry. Fearing detection if they purchased from manufacturers or jobbers, the German agents have canvassed retail stores and paid retail prices.

Buying operations have been reported in New York, Illinois and Oklahoma and shipments were made to Genoa, Italy, and Norway and distant ports.

WOMAN, 28, TELLS HOW BROKER, 85, PROPOSED TO HER

Miss May O'Brien Testifies in Her $1,000,000 Breach of Promise Case.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Miss Honora May O'Brien's breach of promise suit for $1,000,000 against John R. Manning is under way before Supreme Court Justice Crosey and a jury in Long Island City.

Manning, a broker and private banker, who lives on Riverside Drive, sat with Martin W. Luitton, his lawyer, at the counsel table. He looked 85 years, with white hair waved back from his furrowed brow, and a shaving brush-like white whisker protruding from his trembling chin. His knotted hands, crossed with whitepod blue, waved incessantly. Now and then he cupped one of them to his ear while leaning unsteadily toward a witness, peering ahead wearily from age-dimmed blue eyes.

"Back of him sat his six surviving children—Dr. John, Joseph, Miss Mary and Cornelius Manning and Mrs. Catherine Strahan and Mrs. Agnes McKee. Miss O'Brien is 28, and she made a pleasing picture on the witness stand. She had taken off her blue straw hat and the electric light above fell warmly on the masses of red-gold hair coiffed low on the forehead. Black brows cut wide arches across the white forehead. Beneath them were violet eyes. The nose was straight and a bit upturned, the mouth generous and inclined to droop at the corners, the chin square and determined, her cheeks white and faintly hollowed. Miss O'Brien is tall and her figure is inclined to alimness. She wore a blue dress, and black laced shoes.

Deposition From Cardinal.
Her brother, James S. O'Brien, an ordnance officer at the navy yard, was in court. "Jim" or "Jimmie" was a witness, too. And a deposition from Cardinal Farley, who was to have made Miss O'Brien's case, was read.

Miss O'Brien, in pleasant contrast, told how she came to this country 10 years ago, how she met Manning, how he proposed. Arrangements for the wedding were made, she said, the license was secured, guests were invited, the honeymoon was planned and then, on the day of the wedding, it was called off.

Miss O'Brien shook her head when asked: "Did you ever tell Mr. Manning that you loved?" Asked if she ever loved him, she said: "I respected him," and later "no."

"Then you could not be disappointed of your affections by his refusal to marry you?" "I was disappointed," she said.

"You didn't expect to have babies, did you? To establish a family, which is the fundamental reason for marriage. She answered "No."

Manning's Attractions.
Littleton tried to make her specify attainments of Manning which had attracted her. She said she knew a little Gaelic, "she thought," was devoted to the Catholic Church, and was generous. A question she did not answer was: "In what particular was it attractive to you that he had a million dollars and was a self-made business man?"

Miss O'Brien said love was not mentioned between her and Manning. She said she never told him she didn't love, but didn't make any effort to keep that to herself.

The ceremony was scheduled for Tuesday, last Dec. 17. She admitted she went to see Manning at his office at his request and explained that he meant to carry out the suggestion of Cardinal Farley to see that an agreement was made and that amounts were settled on each of Manning's children as well as on her. Cardinal Farley's deposition asserted that Miss O'Brien, in his presence, had said she wished to have the settlements made on the Manning children because she wanted it known that she wasn't trying to take their inheritance from them.

Employed as a Secretary.
Miss O'Brien declared that she lived in Brooklyn and was employed as a secretary. In describing the way Manning proposed, she said he telephoned her, Dec. 12, 1914, and said: "My May, my love, you are a child of Mary and you cannot tell a lie." "Why, no," I said. "Now, I want you to get ready to make a little trip—a honeymoon."

Miss O'Brien said Manning came to see her. She told him she would marry him if her brother consented. She said her brother recognized the disparity in their ages, but said it was all right if she was willing, and Manning could make her life safe from struggle.

Miss O'Brien asserted that Manning owed her money for shirts purchased for him and for taxi fares. Her brother said he paid $10 for taxi hired by Manning. These statements were made when asked if they had obtained money from Manning.

Cardinal's Deposition.
Cardinal Farley in his deposition told of acquaintance with Manning, who was made a Knight of St. George by the Pope, and then detailed visits to him of Manning, Miss O'Brien, her brother, and sons and daughters of Manning. Cardinal Farley said he "positively recalled" that Manning said he wished to be married to Miss O'Brien and that the Cardinal promised to perform the ceremony.

Of the visit on Dec. 12, when Mrs. McKee and Dr. Manning objected to the marriage, he wrote: "I saw that the marriage would cause trouble and advised that a pre-nuptial agreement be made for the provision of his children and his bride."

Of another visit Cardinal Farley wrote that Mrs. McKee and Dr. Manning objected to the marriage and asked a postponement, which he advised.

TELLS LADIES TO "WATCH YOUR STEP"

Says women pay too much heed to their face instead of their corns.

Watch your step! A brisk, lively step is what charms more than a lovely skin, but your high heels have caused corns and you limp a little. That's bad, girls, and you know it. Corns destroy beauty and grace; besides corns are very easy to remove. Rid your feet of every corn by rubbing at the drug store for a quarter of an ounce of freestone. This will cost little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, achy corn relieves the soreness and soon the entire corn, root and all lies right out without pain. This freestone is a gummy substance which dries instantly and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding skin.

Women must keep in mind that cornless feet create a youthful step which enhances her attractiveness.—ADV.

AIMS OF U. S. MISSION EXPLAINED TO RUSSIANS

Ambassador Francis Issues Statement Upon Arrival of Root Party in Petrograd.

PETROGRAD, June 14.—David R. Francis, the American Ambassador, has issued a long statement explaining the aims of the American mission headed by Elihu Root, which has arrived in Petrograd. The statement is thus summarized by the official news agency:

"The communists state that the functions of the mission are to devise, in accordance with the Russian Government, effective means to aid Russia in her efforts to defeat the universal enemy of democracy. Germany and the German standpoint are the greatest foes to the democratic ideas now cherished by America and Russia in common. The mission will elucidate to Russia the aims of America, making it clear that America is inspired by idealistic motives; also that she is devoting to the struggle all her material resources, the indications of which are the facts that the American fleet now is operating jointly with the entire allied fleets; that 10,000,000 Americans are registered, and the economic spirit which America can lend. Realizing that Russia must not only fight, but live, America will try to reduce the burdens and privations borne by the Russian people."

"Among the members of the mission," continues the communiqué, "is not one person who pursues any personal, financial or commercial aims or who desires to influence Russian internal affairs."

Man Hanged Self in Hotel Room. A man who registered as Ben A. Kneely, but whose clothing bore the name "Keldinger," hanged himself in his room at the Carleton Hotel, Eighth and Market streets, yesterday afternoon. He is believed to have been a native of Terre Haute, Ind. He was about 20 years old.

U-BOAT SUCCESS 'AN ECONOMIC GAIN'

North German Gazette Points to Ratio of Submarine War Costs in Germany's Favor.

BERLIN, via London, June 14.—Under the caption, "Submarine Warfare and War Costs," the North German Gazette says: "In none of the warring countries has the question of war costs attracted that degree of attention one was previously led to believe it would. One is almost inclined to assert that the higher the war costs mount the less attention they arouse, and Lloyd George's word concerning the last silver bullets probably will never come true.

"The entrance of the United States into the war is accounted for in no small degree by the circumstances that they long since became the creditors of our enemies, whose bankruptcy they saw approaching and desired to avert as far as possible.

"In connection with the participation in the war of the United States and their far-reaching shipbuilding plans, it is especially desirable to project the question of the costs of submarine warfare into public discussion. How do the material losses of our enemies compare with those we are suffering? The answer is quite plain.

"Offsetting the monstrous values which the entente Powers are losing daily in ships and cargoes, foremost of which are those of England, not to mention the costs of meeting the submarine war, our losses are almost infinitesimal. They consist only in U-boats and munitions. This wholly unequal proportion becomes more pronounced as the submarine campaign goes on. The more our enemies invest in shipbuilding, the greater will be the ratio of values wiped out, and to this increased extent we are permitted to consider the success of our U-boat campaign as an economic gain of immediate importance.

"To be sure, our enemies set up the slogan of 'ton for ton,' on which basis they propose to obtain restitution for losses sustained through our submarines. Seriously they are hardly expecting to realize such a peace condition. Such prospects never did obtain, and today they are more remote than ever. We may confidently permit our U-boats to make reply to such a boastful demand."

NEGRO WOMAN KILLED BY AUTO

Man Arrested at Hartford, Ark., Was Traveling as Peddler.

An unidentified negro woman, wearing a wig and a green plaid gingham dress was killed by an automobile at Jefferson avenue and Randolph street at 7 o'clock last night. Sam Fleming, a negro chauffeur of 2177 Walnut street, was arrested. He said the woman had run into his car. The police say that he was going about 35 miles an hour.

The police records list this as the twenty-eighth automobile fatality within the city limits since the first of the year.

AVIATOR BENOIST KILLED IN ALIGHTING FROM STREET CAR

(O.) Where He Established
Aeroplane Factory.

Thomas W. Benoist, 37 years old, member of an old St. Louis family, aviator and aeroplane manufacturer, was fatally injured while alighting from a street car in Sandusky, O., yesterday afternoon.
He was leaning from the car step when his head struck a telephone pole. His skull was fractured and he died a few hours later in a hospital.

Benoist removed his factory to Sandusky about two years ago and recently he started an aviation school there. He maintained a St. Louis office at 623 Delmar avenue.

Benoist began manufacturing aeroplanes in St. Louis about 10 years ago and since then he had taken out many valuable patents. He was the originator of the tractor biplane, which has the engine in front of the driver's seat. He recently signed contract to deliver a number of his machines to the Government within 90 days.

Several noted aviators were developed under Benoist's tuition. One was Tony Jannus, who recently was killed while flying in Russia. Another was W. K.
Blakely, killed in California.

Robbed on Street by Two Men.
Theodore N. Dobbin of 2323 Sample avenue told the police that he was robbed of a diamond stud, diamond ring, gold knife and $12 in cash by two men at Easton and Belt avenues last night.

4 MORE ARMY DIVISIONAL CANTONMENT SITES APPROVED

Military Towns to Be Built at Sixteen Points by Sept. 1. When First Draft Troops Will Be Called.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Four sites for war army divisional cantonments have been approved, completing the list of 16 points at which military towns are to be built by Sept. 1, when the first draft troops will be called to the colors.

At each cantonment a full division will be given its preliminary training before being sent to Europe. They will be located as follows: Ayer, Mass.; Yaphank, Long Island, N. Y.; Wrightstown, N. J.;
Annapolis Junction, Md.; Petersburg,

Va.; Atlanta, Ga.; Columbia, S. C.; Chillicothe, O.; Louisville, Ky.; Battle Creek, Mich.; Little Rock, Ark.; Rockford, Ill.;
Des Moines, Ia.; Fort Riley, Kan.; Fort
Sam Houston, Tex.; American Lake, Wash.

In addition to these, the following six of 16 camp sites for divisions of the national guard have been formally announced: Fort Worth, Waco, Houston,

Tex.; Fort Sill, Ok.; Deming, N. M.; Linda Vista, Cal.
Contracts for the cantonments at

In the Girls' Shop—

Beautiful Summer Dresses

$1.50, $2.50, $3.50

Don't forget that the little girl appreciates pretty frocks just as much as her older sisters.

These crisp, dainty Dresses of voile, lawn, tissue gingham and crepe are just the thing to please her.

There are beautiful Dolly Varden patterns, attractive stripes, plaids and plain colors; empire models, bolero effects, smocking, guimpe style and attractive combination effects. In fact, any frock she could possibly have in mind. Sizes 6 to 14 years.

In the Misses' Shop—

Stunning Wash Frocks

$7.50 and $12.50

Wash Dresses made with careful and experienced workmanship—dresses that will always retain their beauty of line in spite of repeated tubbing.

The suits of imported gingham are so reasonably priced as to be especially attractive—airy dresses of voile, net and crepe are no less desirable. In all white, pink, blue, rose, green and maize.

One suit in particular is a combination of a fine grade of chambray and gingham. The entire full pleated skirt is of gingham, as are the cuffs, collar, belt and the field finishing the coat; button trimmed, it is unusual and very smart. Other sport suits and dresses of all kinds, one more alluring than the other.
Dresses as pretty as any miss could wish for. Sizes 14, 16 and 18. Priced at $12.50.

RUSSIAN SOCIALISTS REPLY TO LETTER OF ALLIED ENVOYS

They Explain Call for International Conference to Consider Peace.

PETROGRAD, June 14.—The executive committee of the Workers' and Soldiers' Council, in a statement replying to a joint letter addressed to it by Albert Thomas, the French Minister of Munitions; Arthur Henderson, British Minister without portfolio, and Emile Vandervelde, Belgian Minister of Munitions, expressing surprise that a call had been issued by the council for an international conference to consider peace before the negotiations between the British, French and Belgian delegations and the council had been concluded, explains its position regarding the impending international Socialist conference at Stockholm.

"The Russian revolution," says the statement, "which is a revolt of the people not only against the tyranny of capitalism, but also against the horrors of the world war, the blame for which falls upon international imperialism, has placed before all countries, with extraordinary urgency, the urgent need of concluding peace."

Says Way Out Is Offered.
"At the same time, the Russian revolution has indicated to the nations a way for realizing this problem, notably a union of all the working classes to combat all attempts of imperialism to prolong the war in the interests of the wealthy classes, and to prevent peace without annexations or indemnities."

"The working classes of all countries can easily come to a speedy and agreed conclusion only if they are inspired with their own interests and remove the aspirations of imperialism and militarism, who often hide their true face under a seductive mask. It is evident that the conference can become the turning point in the terrible epoch of fratricidal war only if the members of the conference are imbued with these ideas. And it is not less evident that all the questions you have raised cannot be the subject of discord or a motive for a continuation of the war."

"Having recognized the right of nations to dispose of their destiny, the members of the conference will come to an understanding without difficulty regarding the future of Alsace-Lorraine and other regions. Moreover, the working classes, relieved of the mutual distrust with which the imperialists have avenged them, will agree regarding the means of granting compensation and the amount of such compensation to the countries devastated by war like Belgium, Poland, Galicia and Serbia. But it goes without saying that such compensation must have nothing in common with the contribution which is imposed on the conquered country."

Would Create Internationalism.
"Regarding your statement that it is impossible for you to break the secret union—this evidently is based on a misunderstanding, for the council of the Workers' and Soldiers' Delegates claims from no party as a preliminary condition the renunciation of the policy already pursued by it. The council aspects from the conference of the Socialists the creation of an internationalism, which will permit all the working class as of the whole world to struggle in concert for a general peace and break the bonds which unite them by force to the Governments and the classes imbued with imperialistic tendencies which prevent peace."

"The Council of the Workers and Soldiers' Delegates also considers it futile for parties to make it an absolute condition of their taking part in the conference that the preliminary consent of either parties shall be obtained to any obligatory decision, for that would give rise to irreconcilable contradictions on questions, an amicable discussion of which might lead to a solution acceptable to both parties."

"Regarding your desire to obtain a previous complete agreement between the allied Socialists, the way in which we put the problem renders futile any such understanding. We consider that the conference can succeed only if the representatives of the two belligerent parties, but the representatives of a single movement of working classes to draw a common aim of a general peace."

WINTER JACKS DINNER GUESTS
 Hundred Gathered in Boston to Go Abroad to Help Allies.
 BOSTON, June 14.—More than 200 winter jacks, the pick of New England's workers, were guests last night at a dinner at the Boston City Club.

given by the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, on the eve of the winter jacks' departure for England. They are members of 10 sawmill units recruited in this section to speed up the supply of lumber for use in the trenches.
 The woodmen, many of them in their shirt sleeves, dined with the Governor or other representatives of the several states that contributed the units and many prominent citizens. Gov. McCall made an address.

 During May the Post-Dispatch printed 273 Houses, Flats, etc., For Rent Ads. More than the FOUR other St. Louis newspapers combined.

UNITED RAILWAYS QUESTION BEFORE ALDERMEN TODAY

Method of Selecting Three Members to Serve in Conferences to Be Decided.

In the absence of President Alce from this afternoon meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Vice President Hall will have the task of choosing a method by which three Aldermen shall be appointed to serve with Mayor Kiel and City Counselor Dues in the consideration of the United Railways Co.'s proposition to the city to abolish or reduce the mill-passenger tax and validate its underlying franchisees until 1924.

Hall told a Post-Dispatch reporter that if he were to preside at the meeting he would call a "caucus" of the Aldermen to select the three Aldermanic members of the "city's committee" to confer with the United Railways representatives.
 It is generally understood that Mayor Kiel and Counselor Dues desire to see the Hall on the committee, but as presiding officer of the board he could not gracefully appoint himself. The "caucus" appears to furnish Vice President Hall an exit from what seemed to be a parliamentary difficulty. Aldermen Tamme and Udell are expected to be Hall's associates on the committee.

Hall has expressed himself in favor of discontinuing the mill tax, and he has declared that he will support the proposal to "adjust the difficulties of the United Railways Co."

Conferences to Be Open.
 Mayor Kiel has announced that he will ask the United Railways Co. to enlarge its present committee from three to five representatives. Those named to act for the United Railways are Murray Carleton, A. L. Shapleigh and Richard McCulloch, vice president and general manager. Sessions of the joint committee, Mayor Kiel says, will be open to the press.

The plans adopted in Kansas City and Chicago to reduce the capitalization of traction companies in those cities and to afford a partial public control over the operation and earnings of the lines, will be studied by the St. Louis committee.

Chicago has a profit-sharing arrangement with the surface traction lines there. The franchise given by the city in 1907, when the original grants expired, runs for 20 years, and provides that the companies shall be allowed 5 per cent on their capital value, which was fixed at $20,000,000 in that year, but has grown to $147,000,000. The franchise stipulates further that the city shall receive 15 per cent of the net profits and the companies 45 per cent.

Chicago's receipts under this agreement are about $1,000,000 a year, in addition to about $72,000 in taxes.
 In Kansas City the street railway company received a 30-year franchise, with the understanding that adequate service was the prime consideration of the grant. The valuation in 1912, the year of the adjustment, was fixed at $25,648,506.56, to which was to be added the cost of all additions, extensions and betterments. There is a requirement that the company put into the system new capital varying in amount from $650,000 in 1914, to $250,000 in 1920, and from that year to the expiration of the franchise. A rate of 6 per cent is permitted as earnings on the valuation in any given year.

City Has Equity in Property.
 The company is bound to pay all taxes, licenses and other expenses. Surplus income is to be credited to the city for use by the company in the making of extensions and additions to the property until $6,300,000 shall have been expended for those purposes. The city becomes the owner of an equitable interest in the property to the extent of $6,300,000. After the city's credit reach that sum the surplus will be divided in the proportion of one-third to the company and two-thirds to the city.
 Details of the "Chicago plan" and of the "Kansas City arrangement" were published in the Post-Dispatch on December 15, 1916.

Mayor Kiel says the first thing necessary in the case of the United Railways Co., as a prerequisite to considering its request for a remission or reduction of the mill tax and the city's validation of its franchise, is "to squeeze out the water" in its capitalization.
 Just what "squeezing" process is to be employed is what is at issue, Mayor Kiel says he does not know, although the proposal that the city waive the mill tax and recognize the validity of the Central Traction franchise of 1898, is at least three years old.

Richard McCulloch, vice president and general manager of the United Railways Co., and one of its representatives in the conference with city officials last November, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he would recommend the acceptance by the corporation's directors and bondholders of a reduction of the present capitalization to $60,000,000 from somewhat more than $100,000,000.

Along with a contraction of the capitalization, McCulloch said, he would urge the company's directors and bondholders to give the city representation in the corporation's directorate and a degree of control over its operation and expenditures for improvements, if the city proposed that arrangement. McCulloch referred to the "Chicago plan" as the basis of an agreement between St. Louis and the United Railways Co.

Although McCulloch expressed concurrence in a plan to give the city participation in the management and earnings of the company, the proposal presented by the traction corporation through his committee contained no such suggestion, and no intimation that an arrangement of the kind would be acceptable.

United Railways' Proposal.
 The company's proposition was rather a catalogue of its debts and difficulties than a tender of profit-sharing with the city. The company's request embodied the following:
 That the company would acknowledge edge its liability for the mill tax per passenger to Dec. 31, 1916, inclusive.

 That the city should accept payment of the tax which had accrued to and including that date and permit the liquidation of its claim in annual installments beginning with Dec. 31, 1916.
 That the city should "adjust" the mill tax "to one which is equitable, taking into account present (1916) operating conditions;" this adjustment to be effective Jan. 1, 1917.
 That the city "withdraw its attack on the validity of the underlying franchise" and confirm them until April 1, 1924.

 That on reaching an agreement as to these new privileges and immunities requested by the company, ordinances be passed to give the arrangement legal effect.
 The city has never made a formal reply to the company's overtures. The municipal campaign intervened and neither Mayor Kiel nor the Board of Aldermen manifested any desire to submit a counter proposal or a demand to the company. The company continues in the attitude of a speaker of assistance from the city.

CARDINAL MERCIER WRITES TO CLERGY ON PEACE APPEALS

Belgian Prelate Deals Vigorously
With Movement by German Catholics.

JUSTICE AND CHARITY

Says Those Who Now Sing
Hymns Watched Wrongs
With Closed Lips.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, June 15.—Cardinal Mercier, one of the heroic figures of the Belgian resistance, has written a letter to his clergy, the circulation of which the German Governor of Belgium has sought to suppress.

The Post-Dispatch correspondent has been able to obtain a copy of the letter.
In it the prelate deals vigorously with the movement by the German Catholic clergy to promote peace by appeals to their fellow churchmen in hostile as well as neutral lands. Here are salient extracts from the document:

"Some Catholics abroad, who have never found in their hearts a word of reprobation for the German armies when they massacred the innocent inhabitants of Dinant, Virton, Andenne, Tarnier, Aerschot and Louvain, when they shot our priests, set fire to our open towns and defenseless villages; who remained silent when the criminals were white-washed and the victims transformed into culprits; who for three years have watched with folded arms, unseeing eyes and closed lips the martyrdom of a nation formerly their friends—these same Catholics today find heartening accents and compose hymns to Christian fraternity, to forgetfulness of the past and to brotherly peace.

Charity and the Enemy.
"Some confused notions are in the air concerning our obligations of justice and charity toward the enemy of our country. It is a good opportunity to recall to our memory some few points of the doctrine of the great master of Christian philosophy and theology, St. Thomas Aquinas.

"St. Thomas defines anger as a desire for vengeance. How should one judge it from a moral point of view?
It may be a good or bad answer to St.
Thomas, it may be the cause either of an act of virtue or of sin, according to whether the avenging will be righteous or not.

"The will to avenge evil," he says,
"having respect to order and justice.
Thus to wish for the redress of a moral evil within the limits of right is to rebuke evil. It is a zealous and good action. But to have an unbridled desire for vengeance, whether within the limits of law or not, having for its first object the punishment of the guilty rather than the repression of evil, this is an evil action. In this latter case, in fact, the avenging of your neighbor becomes the aim of your vengeance."

"The application of these principles to the present situation is simple. The injustice of the violation of our territory is flagrant and is admitted by the authors of it. The contempt shown for our right from the first days of the invasion until now is undisputed. The repression of these injustices is manifestly righteous, and for those who have the power it is a duty.

Right, Honor and Justice.
"We wish this duty may be accomplished, that disorder shall be punished, that the authors of disorder shall be punished and reduced to impotence, is to wish that an inoffensive people shall be able to live in peace, that the last word shall rest with the right and to honor of the God of Justice; to wish this with the full force of our will and with all the passionate ardor of which human nature is capable—this is to be true to our vows of justice, this is a righteous action.

"But this is hatred, you may say, and charity excludes hatred. But what is hatred? Is it not to wish evil for evil desire, to wish suffering for your neighbor merely that he may suffer and to let this suffering be the goal at which your desire dwells with pleasure? A disposition such as this would indeed be guilty.

"On the other hand, to wish physical evil to someone who has done wrong and remains obdurate, not as an aim in itself, but as a means to further a moral aim, to wish that the guilty may suffer so that under the strain of suffering conversion may come to him—this is not hatred. It is, on the contrary, reasonable love. 'As I live,' sayeth the Lord God, 'I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked but that the wicked turn from his way and live.' We imitate our God. We do not wish our enemies to be excluded from Paradise. We wish them to become once more worthy to enter into it. What would you say of a man who, under the pretext of gentleness, wished to abolish prisons and the penal code? Collective crime of a nation which violates the rights of another is incomparably more grievous than that of an individual when society sends to the galleys or the guillotine.

"Let them who doubt the justice of His cause see in war only reasons for pity and horror—we understand Him! But for us, war is the means to make honor respected, to make right triumph and to re-establish on a height truth and the worship of God, who is truth.

"That is why war is so great and justifies so many sacrifices.

"Let us not then confuse hatred, a vice, with the spirit of righteous vengeance, a virtue. Hatred springs from the destructive instinct. Righteous vengeance springs from charity. Courage opens the way to her by banishing fear from the heart.

"The King, the Government, the people of Belgium knew this fortitude on the night of the 24 of August, at midnight, when they defied the impotence of the military giant who had flung himself on them.

"Fear once banished, the righteous soul looks duty in the face. The wrong done to truth, to justice and to God becomes her as a wrong it done to herself. The peril of her brothers is her peril. The flame of her twofold love of God and mankind burns high, the sacrifice of self is decided, anything rather than abdication and dishonor.

"And this great act of love was willed by the Belgian people. They remain faithful to it. Their tears, their strength, their fortune, their blood does not seem to them too high a price for the triumph of their right and the guarantee of their independence."

Slayer of Wife Found Dead.
FREDERIC, Wis., June 15.—The body of Oscar Dunn, who in a jealous rage shot and killed his wife at their farm home near here, was found in a clump of bushes not far from the house yesterday by a posse of armed men, who had been searching the woods for Dunn.
Death had been caused by a bullet wound in the temple.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Suits for men of extreme build

There are a great many men who are built just a little smaller, taller or stouter than the average man—Hart Schaffner & Marx make special models for these odd-sized men, and its pretty easy for us to fit them.
We handle a very large selection of patterns in these special models.

Special values for stout men

WE are offering our finest Hart
Schaffner & Marx suits in sizes from 38 to 50, stout models only at greatly reduced prices. We want more men who think they're hard to fit, to be familiar with this service of ours, and as our stock of these stout models is quite large we are offering extreme values at—

$15, $19 and $23

If you can wear sizes 38 to 50 stout models you'll make a good investment if you buy one of these garments now for this Fall.

Two-piece Suits, $19

Here are values in fine Hart Schaffner & Marx Two-Piece Suits which you'll realize are very exceptional as soon as you see them. There are young men's extreme and men's conservative models in light and medium weight fabrics. The equal of these values would cost you $25 or possibly more in many other stores.

JUNE SALE OF SUITS

FOR MEN AND YOUNG MEN

Under ordinary conditions a sale of this kind would not be so unusual; but when market prices are continually rising, and clothing costs are increasing almost daily, clothing of this kind at $14 a suit deserves the title—"EXTRAORDINARY."

Many months ago, our stores contracted for a large quantity of clothing—much larger, in fact, than we had ever bought before, because we knew that prices were going higher. We thus obtained the benefit of the prices then in force, and we are able to turn the good saving in your favor. That is why these Summer Suits are going at $14.

Consider what the assortments include: Wool cassimeres in pinch-back and Trench models—especially for the young men. Silk mixed worsteds in the more conservative styles; and plenty of good blue serges—something that is rarely offered in sales of this kind.

These suits are guaranteed to give satisfaction. They are accurately tailored throughout, finished in splendid fashion, and the range of sizes is sufficient for men of every shape and size. It is a safe prediction that no sale of the Summer season will offer as much in actual value and satisfaction. Beginning Saturday morning—your choice of the entire lot at one low price—

ITALIAN MISSION WILL MAKE NO STOP IN ST. LOUIS

Members to Pass Through Tomorrow Morning on Way to Burlington and Chicago.

The Italian mission, which will pass through St. Louis tomorrow morning, will not stop here. For several days the Chamber of Commerce has been making efforts to have the mission as guests of the city, and had expected to give the members a breakfast and an automobile tour of the city.

Third Assistant Secretary of State Breckinridge Long of St. Louis endeavored to arrange it, but was unable to do so. A formal invitation to the mission to stop here as guests of the city was telegraphed to Washington June 4 by Acting Mayor Aloe.

The mission probably will reach St. Louis at 7 a. m., and will be here long enough for a change of engines. It will proceed to Burlington, Io., and go from there to Chicago tomorrow.

Many members of the Italian colonies here were also eager to have the mission here as guests of the city. A press dispatch to the Post-Dispatch from Washington states that there is little interest in the tour of the mission, believed to be due to the absence of the Prince of Udine, a cousin of the King of Italy. The Prince is the official head of the mission. He is ill. There are many notable Italian statesmen and inventors in the party.

FRANCE FEARED TREACHERY BY OLD RUSSIAN REGIME

St. Louisan, Home From Mission to Paris, Tells of Relief Caused There by Revolution.

WAS AT ITALIAN FRONT

Lee Meriwether Says Feats Against Austrians in Mountains Have Been Remarkable.

The news of the Russian revolution caused great joy and a feeling of relief in France, according to Lee Meriwether of 5211 Washington boulevard, who has completed the diplomatic errand on which he was sent to Paris a year ago, and has returned to St. Louis. Meriwether, who is a lawyer, and who twice ran for Mayor of St. Louis on an independent ticket, was sent abroad as special assistant to the Ambassador to France. The nature of his task, he said today, probably will not be made public until after the end of the war.

"All last winter," Meriwether said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "there was great uneasiness in official circles in Paris, over the situation in Russia. It was felt that there was inefficiency or treachery in high Russian official quarters, and the prevailing belief was that it was more treachery than inefficiency."

How General Got New Clothes. "One of the stories told in Paris was about a Russian General who sent repeated requests to Petrograd, in the previous summer and fall, for the winter clothing which his soldiers would need. The clothing did not come, and when winter approached, with the soldiers still in their summer garments, the General wrote his wife of the plight in which the men had been left by official neglect. She appealed, not to the Petrograd officials, but to a number of the semstvos, or local assemblies, and the semstvos, acting with remarkable promptness, provided the winter clothing within a short time."

"Such stories as this caused the French to fear that Russia was being sold out to the enemy. When the news came of the resistance of the Duma to the Czar's order for its dissolution, the French people were elated, for they were reminded forcibly of the events in their own history, when a French King attempted to dissolve the States-General, and when the National Assembly was formed in defiance of him."

"Since I left Paris there have been occurrences in Russia which give cause for apprehension, but I do not believe the French can be as much worried about Russia now as they were last January."

Visited Italian Front. Meriwether visited the Italian front, including headquarters at Udine, where, as he puts it, even the King of Italy is now permitted to go about without full credentials. He said he believed the Italians expected to take Trieste, which is in plain view from their lines, but he said he would regard this feat as almost impossible if he had not inspected the scenes of the remarkable victories that the Italians have already won. Their attacks on the mountain positions of the Austrians, he said, were "like climbing up a perpendicular wall." Most of the soldiers he saw were from Southern Italy, but they do not seem to suffer from the mountain cold more than the North Italians.

It was during his stay in Italy that the United States declared war on Germany. The news of this action, he said, was greeted by the Italian soldiers with demonstrations of the greatest enthusiasm.

Meriwether learned in Switzerland of the manner in which the German Government tries, for the most part successfully, to keep the German people in ignorance as to the facts of the war. After the Jutland naval battle, he said, the Fliegende Blätter, leading German humorous paper, displayed a cartoon in which Germany appeared as having killed the make of British sea power, and the war and merchant ships of Germany were setting forth to roam at will over the seven seas. The latter occurrence is apparently as far away now as it was before the Jutland battle, in which the British fleet inflicted about as much damage as it received, and remained master of the sea.

British Fleet "Destroyed." An American Episcopal clergyman, who was in Dresden until the declaration of war, told Meriwether, on the way home, that the people of that city were told that the British fleet had been destroyed, and that Germany ruled the seas, and that he had no opportunity to find out otherwise until he got out of Germany.

Returning on a Spanish ship, from Barcelona to Havana, Meriwether saw a German submarine in the Mediterranean. The Spanish ship was stopped by shots across her bows, and the Captain went over in a boat and showed certain papers to the submarine commander. These papers proved to be satisfactory, and the ship was permitted to proceed, the submarine submerging.

Illinois Fills Army Quota. WASHINGTON, June 15.—The enrollment Wednesday of 80 war volunteers, Illinois joined the rank of states which have filled their quota for the regular army since April 1. It has enlisted 11,244 men, its quota being 11,254. The total enlistment for the day throughout the country was 1395 men, bringing the increase since April 1 up to 115,437.

Yale Men to Join Harvard Camp. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 15.—One hundred Yale students will join the Harvard reserve officers' corps here June 24, it was announced today. The Yale contingent will bring the total enrollment of the camp to nearly 1400.

If Germany Wins the War—Then What?

THESE are the most terrible times of all history. The blood-drenched fields of Europe bear ghastly witness to the awful struggle between the forces of democracy and military despotism in the latter's mad effort at world-domination.

How critical and how vital the outcome of the whole great tragedy is to the United States is truly pictured in the above named article in the June 15th issue of Uncle Sam Review on all news stands today.

Every person whose heart beats for the freedom of mankind and the future safety of the United States should read this article.

JAPAN'S MISSION TO U. S. TO DISCUSS DEFENSE OF PACIFIC

Endeavor to Enhance Friendly Relations Between Two Countries Also Will Be Made.

TOKIO, June 15.—Viscount Kikukawa, formerly Foreign Minister, is chief envoy of the Japanese commission which is to visit the United States for the purpose of arranging co-operation between the two nations in the war. It is understood the commission will discuss all questions relating to prosecution of the war, including defense of the Pacific, and at the same time endeavor to enhance the friendly relations between Japan and the United States. The other members of the commission are Admiral Isami Takahashi, formerly naval attaché to the Japanese embassy at Washington; Major-General Shokichi Sugano, Matsuo Nagai, Secretary of the Foreign Department; Capt. Shokyo Ando, Maj. Seiji Tamakawa and Tetsuzo Imai, the secretary.

Lightning Hits Barge Near Warship. PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—Lightning yesterday struck a barge loaded with ammunition and moored to a battleship at the Philadelphia navy yard. One seaman was killed and two others were badly stunned but neither the barge nor the warship was damaged.

WEDDINGS ON SOCIAL PROGRAM TOMORROW

Marriage of Miss Bess Brashear and Lieut. Edward Gill Sherburne in the Morning.

TOMORROW several weddings will form the day's important social events.

In the morning Miss Bess Brashear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Russ Brashear, and Lieut. Edward Gill Sherburne, U. S. A., will be married at the Episcopal Church of the Ascension at 11 o'clock.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. J. G. Sherburne of Montpelier, Vt., and his sister, Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. G. A. Doubleday, arrived this morning for the wedding.

Only the immediate families will be present at the ceremony, which will be performed by the Rev. John Bunting, and shortly afterward Mr. Sherburne and his bride will depart for Fort Snelling, Minn.

All the arrangements will be as quiet as possible as the bride's young sister, Miss Kate Brashear, has typhoid fever.

The bride was on a visit to Miss Evelyn Embree in Pharr, Tex., when she and Mr. Sherburne met. He was stationed on the border with his regiment, the Thirty-sixth Infantry.

Miss Embree became engaged to D. Preston McCabe, an Oklahoma guardsman, at the same time, and her wedding is set for this month. Mr. McCabe has since been appointed to the regular army.

Mr. and Mrs. Brashear and their family, Misses Bess, Kate and Robert Brashear, now with the American Ambulance Field Service in France, came to St. Louis from Texas a number of years ago and have made their home here.

Another wedding will be an out-of-town ceremony taking place in Boston, the marriage of Miss Mary Hussey to Thomas Courtis of that place. The ceremony will be at noon in the Arlington Street Church.

The bride has been a teacher at Mary Institute for several years. She was born in Kobe, Japan where her father, the late Peter Hussey, was commander of a line of Japanese merchantmen plying between Russia and China. Mr. Courtis and his bride will reside in Boston.

The marriage of Miss Grace Elsie Edwards of Cleveland, O., and De Mont Modisette, son of the late J. B. Modisette of St. Louis, will take place in Cleveland tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. S. O'Neil Adams, the Rev. Paul A. Suther of the Second Presbyterian Church officiating.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Washington University in the class of 1915 and has been practicing law in Cleveland.

The bride will have Mrs. Julius A. Zinn of Situate, Mass., for her matron of honor, and the other attendants will be Miss Marion Coulter of Oil City, Pa., and Miss Charlotte Eatep of Cleveland.

Allen Modisette of St. Louis will be his brother's best man. Following the ceremony there will be a dinner for the near relatives and friends, after which Mr. Modisette and his bride will go to Atlantic City and New York to spend their honeymoon.

They will be at home after July 15 at 180 East Ninety-seventh street, Cleveland.

Mrs. Robert Brookings Wallace of 6409 Ellendale avenue gave a luncheon yesterday at the Country Club in honor of Mr. Wallace's niece, Miss Jane Goddard, the daughter of Warren Goddard. The guests included Misses Vesta Reed, Margaret Jones, Lucy Butler, Lida Crawford, Rosemond Roman, Dorothy Wray and Marjory Hall.

Miss Goddard was graduated last week for Mary Institute and the girls at the luncheon were some of her classmates.

Miss Elsie Rubin, daughter of Mrs. A. G. Rubin of 484 Arsenal street, and Albert von Hoffman Jr. will be married tomorrow evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. Schick of 432 Arsenal street.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. von Hoffman of 1744 Simpson place and is the manager of the branch office of the Telephone Directory Co. in Kansas City, where he and his bride will reside.

The Soothing, Cooling Japanese Ingredients of Ice-Mint Will Remove Your Corns—No Pains

Just a Touch Stops Soreness, Then the Corn or Callous Soon Shrivels and Lifts Off. Try It Today.

Just a touch of Ice-Mint and oh! what relief. Corns and calluses gradually disappear and you can dance all night or walk all day without the agonizing pain. No matter what you have tried or how many times you have been disappointed, here is a real help for you at last.

From the very second that Ice-Mint touches that sore, tender corn you poor tired, aching feet will feel so cool, easy and comfortable that you will just sigh with relief. Think of it; just a little touch of that delightful, cooling Ice-Mint and real foot joy is yours. No matter how old or tough your pet corn is, he will soon shrivel up, under the influence of Ice-Mint, and you can pick him out. No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying it or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Ice-Mint is the real Japanese secret of fine, healthy, little feet. Prevents foot odors and keeps them cool, sweet and comfortable. It is now selling like wild-fire here.

Just ask in any drug store for a small jar of Ice-Mint and give your poor suffering, tired feet the treat of their lives. There is nothing better.

ALL-STAR TEAM

Bob Larmore of Central is Only Unanimous Choice of Coaches, However.

ALL-STAR HIGH SCHOOL TEAM BASED ON VIEWS OF PLAYERS AND COACHES

Naming the following all-star intercollegiate baseball team, the opinions of the players themselves have been taken into account. The pitchers were taken from the votes of the catchers, while for the selection of a receiver the pitchers gave their votes. The other two having refused to vote were also considered.

FIRST TEAM. Catcher, C. E. Williams (C. C. Central); Infield, C. E. Williams (C. C. Central); Outfield, C. E. Williams (C. C. Central); Pitcher, C. E. Williams (C. C. Central).

SECOND TEAM. Catcher, C. E. Williams (C. C. Central); Infield, C. E. Williams (C. C. Central); Outfield, C. E. Williams (C. C. Central); Pitcher, C. E. Williams (C. C. Central).

This year's all-star high school nine is made up of four players from McKinley, two from Seward, two from Central, one from Cleveland and one from Eastman. The second nine includes one Cleveland, one Eastman and one McKinley player, four from Seward and three from Central.

Wooler of McKinley is given leadoff position in the batting order and second base on the team. He is not a consistent hitter but he "gets on." He is also one of the best men in the league in the pinch. His fielding really won the place for him. He works every base and is a good fielder. He is patient and has been the cause of his getting to first on many occasions.

Johnny Thompson hits next. He is assigned to center field. He hit .333 and fielded perfectly.

He also owns a good arm, only one man scoring from second on a hit. He is a good fielder. He is patient and has been the cause of his getting to first on many occasions.

Whitbread is next in order and is assigned to right field. He hit .375. He fielded almost perfectly, turning but a single error for the campaign.

Here's a Real Star.

The "clean" batting position and the shortstop job on defense give the "Red" player in the league, "Red" Larmore of Central. He played third for the greater part of the season, but was shifted to short when an emergency arose. He was a good third baseman, but his work at short so far eclipses his work at third that there is no comparison.

"Red" led the league in hitting and was stealing 45 and 12 respectively. He has a perfect record in the field as he did not make a single error in eight hits. He was the best player in the league. He was the best player in the league. He was the best player in the league.

Conley of McKinley goes to third base. He was fourth in batting in the league and second in base stealing. His field work was also commendable. He was the best player in the league. He was the best player in the league. He was the best player in the league.

LOOKING THEM OVER WITH OLD MAN DOPE

or hazard of his title. He needs it in his circus business. What with the passing of the untimely fight and being styled by a champion who refuses to be what the word signifies, DOPE, FENNER, the good old heavy-weight class, so badly represented in the present time, may be expected to "decline and fall" henceforth.

It Was Good to Willard.

THE game has been very kind to Jess. The only bout he ever fought in which he stood the slightest chance of being hurt was that with Johnson, the venerable and fading negro. He bears no scars of his profession. He looks back upon his bruillings or even gymnasium beatings with a smile. He is a top. Skilfully guided by masters of exploitation, Tom Jones and Jack Curley, he was led around all the hard spots, accomplishing an admirable record at that, however. He was a man who had greatness thrust upon him.

Since the one real fight of his career, Willard has had nothing to do with anything. His "fighting" consisted of one ten-round go with a man fifty pounds his inferior in weight. For the rest chasing the Indians in a Wild West show was not a hand way to accumulate enough money to buy out two members of the syndicate that controlled his income and to purchase the entire circus which had already paid him enough money to make the deal.

These two transactions cost Willard $138,000. He has still other property and cash, indicating that he is a wealthy man. He has cleaned up in the neighborhood of $200,000.

No More Big Purses.

UNLESS conditions throughout the world suffer a remarkable change no fighter of the future will repeat such an achievement. Indeed, unless there is a healthy change in conditions now prevailing in the boxing world, there won't be enough money available to keep a microbe alive.

And as for Big Jess, if his circus should prove a bloomer, what with war transportation and other conditions at present unfavorable, he may not have another big fight.

Whitbread is next in order and is assigned to right field. He hit .375. He fielded almost perfectly, turning but a single error for the campaign.

WANTS $30,000 FOR 10 MONTHS' CARE OF MAN

Woman Files Claim Against Charles A. Madill Estate for Services as Nurse.

Miss Madeline Jennewein, in the Probate Court today, filed a claim for $30,000 against the estate of Charles A. Madill, a stock and bond broker who died suddenly at his residence, 448 Lindell boulevard, June 10, 1916.

Her petition stated that her claim was founded on Madill's agreement to pay her for her services in nursing him during his last illness. She stated that she had been with him from August 1, 1915, to his death, about 10 months later.

Abram Frumberg of the law firm of Frumberg & Russell, representing Miss Jennewein, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that Madill left his home and went to Miss Jennewein's home to live during the period mentioned. A verbal agreement, Frumberg added, was made for the payment of $30,000 to the nurse, which was to be paid in installments.

Madill's estate is being administered by his widow, Mrs. Henrietta Madill, under a will dated Nov. 11, 1916, in which he left his property in trust for her during her lifetime, to go, at her death, to their daughters, Delphine, 11 years old, and Talma, 14.

An inventory of the estate listed personal property amounting to $50,000, of which $40,000 was life insurance, and realty at 538 South Harrison avenue and 300 E. Madison avenue.

Mrs. Madill was not at her home when a reporter called there for a statement. Madill was about 45 years old, and the son of the late Judge George Madill, a capitalist. At his death his family refused to make public the cause of death, but in the burial permit it was given as cerebro hemorrhage and acute alcoholism, with the hemorrhage the primary cause. Up to about two weeks before his death Madill had been a patient at St. John's Hospital, where he had been discharged as cured of a nervous affection.

LIBERTY BONDS AT PREMIUM ON LOCAL EXCHANGE

Sale of War Security Fractionally Above Par, Offered at $1.01—Candy Common Higher.

Trading in Liberty Bonds was inaugurated on the St. Louis Stock Exchange today. The new security followed promptly similar action on the New York National Bank and the New York Stock Exchange, but the bid did not take place until about 10 minutes before the opening close, hence trading in it was limited.

Candy common was again the popular trading medium, there being several transactions in that stock, with a further fractional advance.

Consolidated Coal was strongest, with a gain of $1.00 over the last previous session. Beginning today, the Exchange will, until further notice, hold but one session a day.

The Post-Dispatch Daily Short Story

Courage

By Sam Hellman

W E sat silently sipping our cocktails after Bainbridge departed from the club. He had left us somewhat stunned.

"Some chap, that," remarked Coates, "that's the kind of fellow living—sensation, danger, triumph. It makes me feel kind of cheap."

"I felt kind of cheap myself," Bainbridge with his tale of a Croix de Guerre earned in the Foreign Legion, his stories of big game hunting on the Zambesi, his narrow escapes from savage tribes had made me feel feebly futile.

"I'd have enjoyed those stories a whole lot more if some one else had told them about Bainbridge," remarked Henshaw.

Coates, who had sponsored Bainbridge at the club, broke in angrily: "Don't you think he was telling the truth? I can vouch for his veracity, if that is necessary."

"Oh, I believe him all right," drawled Henshaw, "but why all the fuss about him? There are thousands of persons in the world who have done things just as courageous, if not more so, than Bainbridge. The only difference is that they don't choose to talk about them. Biting does never bark."

"Oh, bunk," retorted Coates. "You're just full of envy. Did you ever pull anything courageous enough to interest anyone? I suppose you've had some devilish experiences collecting rents from your tenants. Tell us some of your brave stunts!"

"Perhaps I could if I wanted to," answered Henshaw with a shrug. "Anybody could. You could."

"Not I," laughed Coates, the tension relaxed. "The most daring thing I ever did was to climb down a deep ditch after a golf ball. At that, I slipped and nearly broke my neck. You're wrong, Henshaw, its given to but few of us to perform heroic deeds. Most people live in the rut of eat, sleep and work. Take a look at Hunter over there. Do you think, for example, that he ever did anything heroic in his life?"

I was compelled to smile. Hunter is our English cafe servant, the usual type, a spiritless automaton, with not a thought above "yes, sir," "no, sir," and "thank you, sir."

"Let's find out," suggested Henshaw. "Oh, waiter!"

Hunter tiptoed over.

"Sit down," said Henshaw.

Hunter looked startled. Henshaw repeated the invitation and the waiter seated himself uncomfortably on the edge of a large rocker.

"Hunter," began Henshaw, "did you ever do anything heroic?"

"I beg your pardon, sir."

"Did you ever do anything brave; did you have any thrilling experiences or narrow escapes?"

"Me, sir. You must be chaffing me, sir. I have been in service all my life." Coates and I yawned.

"How is it you're not in the British army?" persisted Henshaw.

"Oh, I'm too old, sir. I tried to get in, but they said my arches were broken."

"Oh, come on," interrupted Coates, "let's have a drink."

"Hold your horses," said Henshaw. "How long have you been in America, Hunter?"

"Two years, sir."

"Any experiences coming over?"

"Not what you would call experiences, sir. I sailed on the Alturia—"

"Alturia?" broke in Henshaw. "That boat was torpedoed, wasn't it? Were you on it that trip?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, what happened to you?"

"Very little, sir. I jumped overboard. I'm a good swimmer. The children caused me a little trouble—"

"Children?" exclaimed "What children?"

"Well, sir, it was this way. There was a woman on the boat with two children. A bit of shell killed her. When the boat started sinking, I just took the children and jumped into the water with them. They picked us up in about 20 minutes."

"My heaven!" interrupted Coates. "Don't you call that an experience—swimming in the mid-Atlantic with two children?"

"Well, sir, you see they were very small children. I could hold them both under one arm."

"What happened to the children finally?" I asked.

"I have them," replied Hunter. "They are the brightest, cutest children you ever saw, sir."

"You're taking care of them?" exclaimed Coates. "Do you know where they are?"

"No, sir. They're orphans, and someone has to take care of them. I am getting good wages here, sir."

"Tell me some more about your experiences after the Alturia sank," asked Coates. "How were you picked up?"

"One of the lifeboats came up. There was a man in the boat, sir, a dirty hound, sir, who tried to push me back into the water. He said the boat was too full already, but the others, sir, wouldn't have it. That's all, sir. I hope you'll excuse me, sir. I must—"

"Hello!" I exclaimed. "Here's your friend Bainbridge, Coates."

"Back again," cheerily greeted the soldier of fortune. "Did I by any chance leave my stick here?"

"Oh, Hunter," called, "see if you can find Mr. Bainbridge's stick."

"Here it is, sir," said the servant, handing the cane to me.

"What ho!" cried Bainbridge jovially. "How did you get here, Hunter. Recover from your wetting all right?"

The waiter took steadily at Bainbridge for a fleeting second and passed from the room without a word.

Pretty Thin.

PICKING her way daintily through the locomotive works, a young woman visitor viewing operations with awe. Finally she turned to a young man who was showing her through and asked: "What is the big thing over there?"

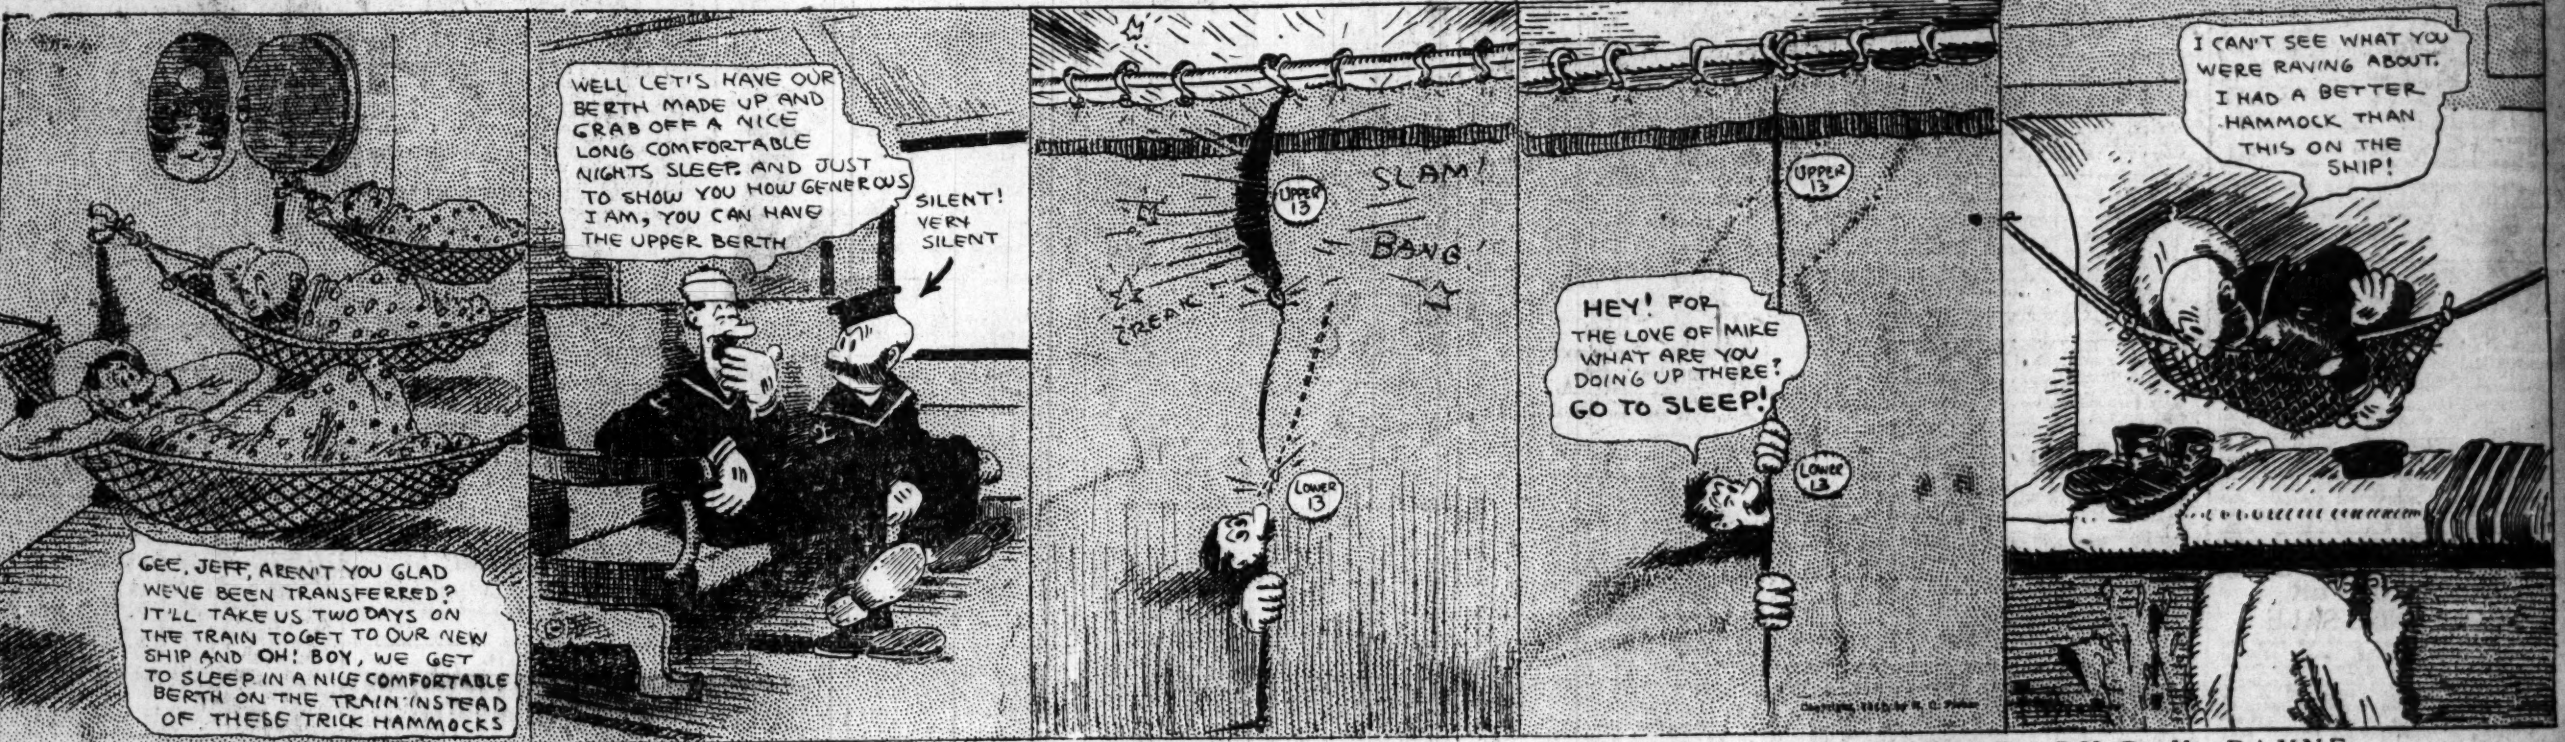

"That's a locomotive boiler," he replied, she puckered her brows. "And what do they boil locomotives for?"

"To make the locomotive tender!" the young man from the office never smiled.

THE GOLDEN BRIDLE—Part II.

BY MRS. P. A. WALKER.

Ivan seized the bridle and went to the room below.

"I wish to borrow this for a while," he said, striding up to the dwarf, who sat at the head of the table, "for I am trying to tame the wild colt of the Wizard of the Green Swamp."

"Let the lad have it," shouted the dwarf, whom Ivan had rescued; "he saved me a good beating just now and gave me my goose back from the robber."

"Certainly! good luck to you!" cried all the dwarfs in one voice. "Use it and return when you finish."

As Ivan was leaving the cave he felt a hand pluck at his coat and a bag of metal was thrust into his hand.

"Take this," said the grateful dwarf, as he waved good-by. "You probably saved my life. With the golden bridle you can ride the colt in safety, but you must be careful to slip it over his head just at sunset. Take the gold in the bag and buy yourself a fine suit, then at sunset bridle the colt and ride back to the palace. The Princess will be waiting."

Ivan raced to the town and bought himself a gorgeous suit of green velvet with golden lace trimmings, and a cap with a long plume; then he purchased a handsome sword and a fine cloak. By 5 in the afternoon he was back in the colt's stable. Just as he entered he heard a shout and saw a great commotion. Soldiers were vainly trying to put a good luck if you propose to make the effort yourself.

Ivan glanced up. The Western sky was glowing in great bars of crimson and gold, melting into streamers of amethyst, and through the clouds the sun's last rays shot like arrows from a bow. It was a few moments of sunset. Ivan threw open the stable door and the colt turned his head, his eyes took on a fiery look and he raised his hind leg to kick. Ivan shook the golden bridle before his face.

This had an instantaneous effect on the animal. A gentle look came into its eyes and it rubbed its glossy head on Ivan's arm. In another moment the lad had slipped the golden bridle over the pretty head of the colt and led it out into the field. The sun had just sunk in a bank of purple foam and the whole world seemed gloriously beautiful.

On the ground lay a fine saddle that the Prince had left, so Ivan placed it on the colt and was soon riding calmly toward the palace. The heralds on the walls saw him coming and rang out the bells; then out from the ponderous gate there came a procession with the Princess at the head.

"I see you have won me fairly," said the Princess, as she took Ivan's hand in her own. "So I wish to greet you as my future husband. As it was through this white wild colt that you have won me, I mean to have its figure used by my people in all the years to come. In all time the white horse of Saxony will be known."

Today when you see the figure of a white horse on some of the coats-of-arms used in foreign lands, you will know that it is in commemoration of little Ivan and the reward he got for helping the dwarf when a cruel soldier was stealing his goose.

"Not all the gold and all the princesses in the world could induce me to try that horse again," he said as he noticed Ivan standing by the stable door watching the preparations to leave. "I wish you

Did He Kiss Mamma?

ALICE: He was just about to kiss me when mamma came into the parlor.

Gall: And he didn't kiss you?

"No; he changed his mind."

"Oh, then he knew why your mother came into the room?"

A Poor Shot.

REDD: Is he much of a shot with a gun?

Osgood: Say, if you put a gun in that fellow's hands and stood him in Billy Sunday's big tabernacle and let him fire at it, I'll bet he couldn't hit the trail.

Going Slow.

REDD: Going to economize on account of the war?

Osgood: Sure thing.

"How?"

"I'm going to try and economize on fines."

Garden Indications.

COUNTY: Some men would rather fight than eat.

City: But from the great number of gardens being started it looks as if a majority of them would rather eat.

His Inference.

HAM: He said when he got up to meet me at our meeting his eyes met a forest of faces.

Eggs: All wooden heads, I suppose he meant.

A Thought for Today.

A BELLEVILLE girl, who chews gum incessantly, says she can't stand people who sop their bread in the gravy.

WHO'S that whistling out there, dear?

Mrs. Wellston: It's the gardener.

"Well, I hope he's doing the work better than he's doing the whistling."

Mrs. CARANNE: What is your husband's pet aversion?

Mrs. Chouteau: An aversion to pets.
